LEADERS TRYING TO FIND A SOLUTION OF ADRIATIC QUESTION

Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando Met This Forenoon and Council of Four Meets Again This Afternoon in Endeavor to Settle Matter

Paris, April 21.—Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando met again this morning in M. Clemenceau's office and resumed consideration of the Adriatic question. President Wilson again absented himself from the conference.

The Council of Four will meet this afternoon, Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando and President Wilson attending.

The Adriatic issue having become acute, the Council of Four, with the exception of President Wilson, held a session yesterday, continuing the discussion which was in progress at the meeting on Saturday. The necessity of coming to a decision one way or the other caused the session to be held yesterday, Signor Orlando, the Italian Premier, and Baron Sonnino, the Italian Foreign Minister, both being present.

Baron Sonnino continued to occupy the extreme position, insisting upon the integral fulfillment of the secret Treaty of London, giving to Italy the entire Dalmatian coast and islands, and also claiming the city of Fiume without internationalization or division with the Jugo-Slavs.

Army's Attitude.
Premier Orlando was rather more conciliatory, though a telegram which he had received from the heads of the Italian army declared that the entire army was behind him in upholding Italy's aspirations. Captain Tozzi, of Premier Orlando's staff, said the telegram showed the Italian determination to secure adequate protection on the eastern Adriatic coast. He added that if these rights were not recognized Italy undoubtedly would adopt her own course without reference to the conference and occupy the regions to which she considered herself entitled.

Wilson's Position.
President Wilson's position was said to be equally determined against any recognition of the secret Treaty of London.

Reports of a compromise on the basis of Italy getting the Italian quarters of Fiume and the Jugo-Slavs getting the districts were not confirmed, as it was said that this was the plan put forward to the Italians, but not accepted.

BRIG.-GEN. CLARK BACK IN CANADA

Victoria Officer Among Those Who Reached Halifax Yesterday on Adriatic

Halifax, April 21.—Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, D. S. O., of Victoria, was among the soldiers landed here yesterday afternoon by the steamship Adriatic, which arrived with more than 2,000 officers and men, including the remainder of the staff officers of the Third Division who had not returned to Canada. There was besides a large number of civilian passengers for New York.

Major-General Loomis, commanding the Third Division, came on the Adriatic and also Brigadier-General Dyer. General Loomis wears the C. B., the C. M. C. and the D. S. O., and looks well after his four years' service.

Machine Gun Brigade.

The only unit which came on the ship intact was the First Canadian Motor Machine Gun Brigade. There were 375 men, though the normal strength would be about 500. The unit went overseas with the First Contingent under General Brudenell, the name then being the Auto Machine Gun Corps. It developed at the front and finally took its present name. The brigade returned in command of Col. W. K. Walker, D. S. O., M. C., of Vancouver, who says that during the war four times the present number of the brigade passed through it. Two months ago the brigade was presented with colors by the people of Canada, and Colonel Walker will hand them over at Ottawa, the headquarters of the brigade.

Cycle units came on the vessel, and also members of survey corps. The troops left promptly after the arrival of the ship.

B. C. Officers.
The list of officers included the following British Columbia men: Brig.-Gen. Clark, D. S. O., Victoria; Capt. P. D. Routh, Vancouver; Lieut. D. McGillivray, Vancouver; Nursing Sister D. MacGregor, Vancouver; Lieut. R. M. McDougall, Fort George; Lieut. R. M. Payne, Vancouver; Major H. B. Scharachmidt, Vancouver; Capt. J. M. Cummings, Vancouver.
G. G. Ward, of New York, general manager of the Commercial Cable Company, was one of the civilian passengers bound for New York brought by the Adriatic.

GALIANO LIFEBOAT FOUND ON ISLAND NEAR PRINCE RUPERT

Prince Rupert, April 21.—A battered lifeboat bearing the name Galiano was found Friday by Harry Ward and Alvin Smith, local boys, at Picnic Bay, Wolf Island, across from Prince Rupert Harbor. The boat was badly torn but the name of the lost Government vessel could be easily traced. This is the first vestige of the wreck ever seen in Northern waters.

An Aerial Defence Plan Being Worked Out by Australia

London, April 21.—(Via Reuters' Ottawa Agency).—A telegram from Melbourne states that the Australian Government has completed an aviation defence scheme and proposes to establish various aviation schools, with squadrons of aeroplanes and seaplanes and an airship section. The personnel of the defence force will number 1,400. The initial expenditure will be £500,000 and the annual expenditure about the same amount.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY IN THE PRIPET AREA SURRENDERS TO THE UKRAINIAN FORCES

London, April 21.—The Bolshevik First Army, operating in the region of Homel, along the Pripet River, has surrendered to the Ukrainians, according to a statement issued by the Ukrainian Press Bureau and forwarded from Vienna to the Central News. Up to the time the report was forwarded 20,000 rifles, thirty-five guns and 200 machine guns had been handed over to the Ukrainians.

Archangel, April 19.—(Associated Press).—The Russian and British troops pursuing the Bolshevik troops retreating from Bolshie Ozerki to-day had progressed twenty versts southward. They had captured several prisoners and two three-inch guns which the Bolsheviks had been compelled to abandon in their hasty retreat.

GERMANS' COURSE IS TENDING TO BIND ALLIES MORE CLOSELY

Paris, April 21.—(Havas).—The announcement by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German Foreign Minister, that his Government would send delegates to meet with powers to receive the peace terms and transmit them to the German Government has contributed greatly, the newspapers here say, toward an alliance between Great Britain, France and the United States. The French press insists that negotiations looking toward such an alliance are still in progress.

Men of Four More Battalions Brought To Port of Halifax

Halifax, April 21.—The steamship Olympic, with 5,500 troops aboard, including the First, Second, Third and Fourth Battalions, of the First Brigade, First Division, C. E. F., entered the harbor here at 11 o'clock this forenoon, docking an hour later.

Twenty Were Killed in Disturbance in a Town Near Seoul

Tokio, April 21.—Special dispatches from Korea state that members of the Christian mission at Telongari, near Seoul, clashed with gendarmes during a riot there, the officers firing upon the mob, killing twenty and wounding many of those engaged in the demonstration.

SPEEDY PUBLICATION OF TREATY ON THIS CONTINENT

Paris, April 21.—(Associated Press).—The Council of Four of the Peace Conference, in the interval before the peace treaty is handed to the German delegates, will take up the question of making the document public. The United States delegation, in agreement with the press advisors to the delegations of other countries, has recommended to the Council the publication of the treaty immediately after its delivery to the Germans. Otherwise, it is pointed out, the first version of the important provisions of the treaty would be issued by the Germans and might be loaded up with German propaganda.

The plan proposed on behalf of the United States is for the United States delegates to cable for simultaneous distribution on the American continents, first a 250-word official summary of the treaty; second, a 5,000-word official summary, and third, the text of the treaty. The two summaries would be given to the United States press at about the same time, and the treaty a day or two later, the text possibly to be distributed by instalments as received. The text of the covenant of the League of Nations already has been telegraphed to the State Department at Washington for release, when authorized by President Wilson. Other parts of the treaty are likely to be cabled during the present week. The final dispatch, which may count up to nearly 100,000 words, can be cabled in four or five hours if all the cable lines are cleared for the purpose. The capacity of the cables is 600,000 words a day, and the Allied Governments could order the text of the peace treaty given first official priority so that the enormous task of transmission could be accomplished with less delay than a press message ordinarily required.

MAJOR RETALLACK TO SUCCEED MAYOR GALE

Public Utilities Commissioner Now Goes to Returned Officer

NEW APPOINTEE IS STRONGLY ENDORSED

Major John Ley Retallack's name will be submitted to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor for the position of Public Utilities Commissioner for the Province of British Columbia under the statute passed at the recent session of the Legislature. This decision was reached by the Cabinet at its meeting this morning, and the announcement made by Premier Oliver.

Mayor Gale's Withdrawal.

It became necessary for the Government to reopen the question immediately His Worship Mayor Gale, of Vancouver, decided to change his mind. Mr. Gale's name was submitted to His Honor on Thursday last. In the meantime, however, the returned soldier organizations of the Province have poured in numerous telegrams to the Premier objecting to the appointment going to a civilian.

Simultaneously with protests by wire and mail the Great War Veterans' Association in the Terminal City gave voice to its objection by mass meeting on Friday. In view of this uncomfortable development, Mr. Gale came over to Victoria and intimated to the Government that he would like to take a second thought on the subject. On his return to Vancouver on Saturday evening His Worship decided to decline the offer of this important position. The question was, therefore, reopened this morning and Major Retallack appointed.

New Man Well Known
The Commissioner-to-be is well-known throughout the Province, and his application for the post is strongly recommended. As well as a number of public bodies and private citizens, to whom his ability is well known, Major Retallack is warmly endorsed (Concluded on page 4.)

Montreal Carters Go Out on Strike and Tie Things Up

Montreal, April 21.—Montreal awoke this morning to face a new strike, one which will affect more men than have been affected by any other labor trouble in Montreal in years. Yesterday afternoon more than 2,000 carters employed by various cartage and express companies in the city unanimously decided to strike this morning.

Havana, April 21.—A strike of tobacco workers of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces began Saturday afternoon to enforce demands for a general twenty per cent. increase in wages and various improvements in working conditions. It is estimated that between 2,000 and 10,000 men are affected.

German Government Informed by Council of Four Allies Will Not Receive at Versailles German Delegates Who Can Not Complete Pact

Paris, April 21.—(Associated Press).—The Council of Four has notified Germany that the Allied Powers cannot receive German representatives at Versailles who are merely messengers. The German Government must appoint representatives with powers in full.

Paris, April 21.—Grave doubts were expressed to-day whether the perfected peace treaty would be presented to the German representatives the coming Friday. While the treaty will be communicated to them in substance, it was said in well-informed quarters that it would be physically impossible to prepare the document in its complete final form in the four days remaining.

The German reply to the ultimatum of the Council of Four that it will not receive any German delegates not fully empowered to conduct discussions in negotiation is awaited anxiously in Peace Conference circles. The next steps toward peace depend on the German reply.

Fears are felt in some quarters that the unexpected development may affect the programme for the meeting planned for Friday at Versailles. If the German Government in reply to the ultimatum of the Council should raise a controversy regarding the status of its delegates and the procedure to be followed, it is conceivable that the arrival of the German delegates at Versailles may be postponed.

PARIS PAPERS SAY BAD FAITH DISPLAYED BY THE GERMANS

Paris, April 21.—This morning's newspapers here see in Germany's proposal to send "couriers" instead of delegates of proper standing to Versailles nothing but evidence of bad faith and a transparent movement to gain time.

The Echo de Paris says: "The Allied Governments are determined not to accept subordinate personages and Germany will be immediately notified that she must send delegates equipped with full powers to conclude peace. Upon their arrival at Versailles the first step will be to demand from them evidence that they hold those powers."

The Gaulois, indignant at what it describes as "the impertinence of Germany's coup de theatre," which is regarded as a refusal to sign the treaty, says: "The next word will be with Marshal Foch."

A statement issued on Saturday night by the Havas News Bureau, a semi-official agency, said that surprise had been manifested over the fact that Germany did not select more important men for her peace delegation than Minister von Haimhausen, Von Keller, Ernst Schmidt, Reimker and Luders, and also that according to the German note, they would have power only to receive the text of the terms and not to sign the treaty.

It was declared, the statement added, that "in these circumstances the sending of these delegates to Versailles would be useless."

German Cabinet.

Berlin, April 19.—Via London, April 21.—(Associated Press).—The Cabinet devoted less than half an hour to the formulation of its answer to the Entente's invitation to Versailles for the purpose of receiving a draft of the peace terms. A feeling of gloom prevails in official circles to-night and (Concluded on page 4.)

WEATHER DELAYS ATLANTIC ATTEMPT

Hawker and Raynham Held in Newfoundland by Far-Off Storms

St. John's, Nfld., April 21.—1 p. m.—Owing to weather conditions now prevailing in mid-ocean, no flight will be attempted to-day.

Hawker and Raynham found the local conditions this morning excellent for a start of the trans-Atlantic flight, but waited until noon for reports from mid-Atlantic. When the reports came they indicated that the weather was bad.

Major Wood.

Holyhead, April 21.—(Associated Press).—Major J. C. P. Wood and his navigator, Captain Wylie, who came to grief in the flight from Eastchurch to Ireland on the first leg of their trans-Atlantic flight, will repeat their attempt as soon as their machine is repaired or another machine is put in condition for the long journey. If by the time they are ready other aviators have flown across the Atlantic, they will try their best for record time.

Major Wood and Mr. Kemp, manager of the C. A. Short Company, both attribute the surplus flow of petrol which brought about the descent to a defective carburetor. They say the engine was perfect. The aeroplane will be sent by rail to Rochester and repairs are expected to occupy about a fortnight.

SOLDIERS AND WIVES LANDED AT ST. JOHN

Nurse Anna Jones on Way to British Columbia With Mother

St. John, N. B., April 21.—Chubby babies, happy mothers and brave fathers made up the list of the steamship Grampian, of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, which docked here late last evening following an uneventful voyage from Liverpool. All the soldiers who returned are married men who brought their wives and children. There were in all 354 men, eight officers, 1178 civilian adults and 288 children. There also was a party of nine United States citizens on their way home, in addition to a party of five shipwrecked men. There were two births on the voyage.

One of the most interesting of the Grampian's passengers was Miss Anna Jones, now on her way to British Columbia, where she, with her mother, will settle. She is said to be one of the very few women of the British army who fell a victim to German gas. Miss Jones was a member of the British Red Cross and persisted in going right up to the front line under heavy fire. Knowing no danger and fearing no German tactics, it is told that she was there in the front line as the German used their gas to such deadly effect.

PETLURA'S SCHEME PROVING SUCCESS

Ukrainian Leader Retakes Towns and Wins Over Bolshevik Troops

Vienna, April 20.—Via London, April 21.—(Associated Press)—Forces commanded by Petlura, the Ukrainian peasant leader, have retaken Zhitomir and Proskurov and also secured the admission of 16,000 Bolshevik troops, particularly those originating in East Ukraine, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Tarnopol.

It would appear that Petlura's plan, which he forecast some time ago to the Associated Press, of cutting behind the Bolshevik troops advancing into Besarabia and towards Odessa, is succeeding. It is stated that he brought about the desertion of the Bolshevik soldiers partly by fighting and partly by persuasion. This was made more easy, it is reported, since the Bolsheviks executed 600 peasants during their brief occupation of Zhitomir.

Petlura still is hoping the Allies will realize the advantage of assisting him. He has been heartened by recent visits of Allied Missions at Stanislaw. During the conference at Odessa between French and Ukrainian representatives prior to the evacuation of that city it is asserted that the French admitted they had been misinformed regarding the Ukrainian Government and that they were preparing to extend help to the Ukrainian troops.

MURDERER MADE ESCAPE AT TORONTO AND IS AT LARGE

Toronto, April 21.—The mystery surrounding the escape of Frank McCullough, a condemned murderer, from the Toronto jail still remains unsolved, and so far as is known the police have no clue to his whereabouts.

Was Troubled With BOILS FOR SIX MONTHS

From the days of Job to the present time, boils have been one of the greatest afflictions of the human race. Very few people escape from having them at some time.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do won't cure them and stop more coming.

Boils are caused by bad blood bursting out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system, and purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul material from the system, and when this is done, never another boil comes and health and strength are permanently restored.

Mr. C. H. Bridges, 470 Barton St. E., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with boils for about six months and tried several remedies without any relief until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and the effect has been wonderful. After using two bottles I was rid of them all. I feel like a new man; my appetite is better, and I sleep better than I have for years. I can highly recommend B. B. B. to all who are troubled as I was."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for the past forty years, and manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DR. MICHAEL CLARK URGES FREE TRADE

Says In Toronto All Taxation Should Be Removed From Foodstuffs

Toronto, April 21.—Dr. Michael Clark, M.P. for Red Deer, Alberta, gave an address to the Open Forum here yesterday afternoon in which he advocated free trade.

"Having regard to what I believe will be the serious condition of Canada along with other belligerent countries during the next two years, I do not think any Government should be allowed by the people to retain power that does not meet the situation of the returned soldier and the workmen by taking every vestige of taxation off foodstuffs," he said.

Dr. Clark admitted he was a radical. "If you are a radical in Toronto," he said, "you have got to speak with bated breath and whispering humbleness."

ATLANTIC STORMS WERE REPORTED

Airmen Hawker and Raynham
Were Prevented Leaving
Newfoundland Yesterday

St. John's, Nfld., April 21.—Although local weather conditions were favorable yesterday, two storms were reported working westward from mid-Atlantic, and for that reason neither Harry C. Hawker, Australian aviator, nor Capt. F. P. Raynham, British aviator, "hopped off" as they expected in competition for the $50,000 prize offered by The London Daily Mail for the first successful Trans-Atlantic flight.

Both Hawker and Raynham spent the day preparing to take the air. Hawker devoted himself to testing wind conditions by setting free pilot balloons from his aerodrome on the Mount Pearl plateau and studying their course as the off-shore winds carried them out to sea. Raynham put in his time in his hangar at Quidi-vidi, working on his Martinsyde plane, which later was taken out for inspection of the motor, supplementary water tanks and radiators. Satisfactory results were reported at the end of the tests, especially that on the radiator, which was repaired on Saturday.

Hawker seemed in a jovial mood all day, although he said conditions at sea were the worst since he had come here nearly a month ago. Drift ice loomed up on the horizon yesterday morning, and a great iceberg was reported swinging close inshore off a nearby cove.

Mayor Wood.
Lehdon, April 21.—Major J. C. Wood, who was forced to descend off the Irish coast while flying from Eastchurch to Limerick on the first leg of his proposed flight across the Atlantic, sent the following message to The Weekly Dispatch:

"I was obliged to descend twelve miles from land. I am still a competitor and hope to be able to start early in May."

The Dispatch says that Major Wood's aeroplane, the "Shamrock," is packed on a freight car at Holyhead and probably will be sent to Eastchurch to-day. Lancaster Parker, who was flying with Major Wood in an escorting machine, landed in a field on the island of Anglesey, in the Irish Sea, unhurt, according to the newspaper.

Why Dominion Friction Surface Belting is more than Waterproofed Cotton Fabric

While all rubber transmission belting is built on the same principle and one piece looks much like another, there is a vast difference when in actual use on the pulleys. In Dominion Friction Surface Belting the difference is so markedly apparent that it admits of no comparison.

While we use only the highest grade cotton fabric and vulcanize it to give strength and resistance to water, then take out the stretch and cure it properly, we have advanced far beyond these primary requirements, and have developed, through more than fifty years of research and thousands of experiments, a rubber friction compound that makes our belting take a grip on the pulleys which eliminates practically all wastage of power.

Our belting experts will be glad to demonstrate how this dual purpose belting will "speed up" your production just as they have for many other Canadian Manufacturers.

Their services are at your disposal through any of our service branches, phone or wire the one nearest you, it places you under no obligation.

TOWNS IN GERMANY LOSE GARRISONS

Disbanding of Army; Leaders Admit Future Forces Are Uncertain

Berlin, April 17.—Delayed.—(Associated Press).—Every German town and city which has had its own garrison, of which it has been proud for decades, has been officially notified by the National Assembly that it has been decided to disband the German army. The official notification, while referring to the creation of a new army in the future, says its strength is entirely unknown at present and declares that it recognizes towns will be injured economically by the withdrawal of the garrisons. They will, however, have to accustom themselves to this, the message says, and the authorities will try to consider economic problems while regrouping the army units.

Hungary. Budapest, April 19.—Via London, April 21.—The Commissary of Education has instructed the clergy to declare from the pulpits during the next three Sundays that the Soviet Government guarantees full religious freedom to all; that there will be no interference with the clergy or churches or other religious buildings, and that the Soviet will not change the present order of marriage and family life nor communize women.

German Wines. Berlin, April 17.—Delayed.—(Associated Press).—Wine wholesalers are trying to release into the trade channels enormous quantities of wine and spirits which were in storage for the army when fighting ceased, and which are either being drunk by the soldiers, Councils or are in danger of being ruined by the coming warm weather, owing to the unusual storage conditions. It is believed by the dealers that the high prices of wines can be materially reduced if the liquors are released before it is too late.

Barry, Eng., April 21.—The American steamship Luella, in the United States transport service, bound from St. Nazaire for New York, put in here to-day with the crew of the British steamship Rosedale on board. The Rosedale was sunk in a collision with the Luella.

The Luella left St. Nazaire on April 17 with a full cargo, but the only troops on board were two members of the ordnance convoy. She was due to call at Barry on her way to New York, where she is expected to arrive on May 5. The Rosedale is a vessel of 1,500 tons. Her home port is Hamilton, Ont.

LABOR PROPOSALS OF FRENCH BODIES

Paris, April 21.—(Havas).—Representatives of the Catholic Workmen's Syndicate met a delegation of the General Labor Federation Sunday in an effort to bring about the union of the two labor organizations. The meeting, however, failed of its purpose, as the Catholic delegates refused to give their support to the plan of the General Federation to wage a class fight on behalf of labor.

A resolution was adopted by the representatives of the two organizations, declaring that they should work in common for an eight-hour day, the fixing of a minimum wage and equal pay for equal work with regard to women. The question of the two parties joining to secure adoption of these reforms was left to the decision of the district organizations.

B. C. AND REPATRIATION.

At a mass meeting of returned soldiers in Vancouver on Good Friday, speakers of the Great War Veterans' Association asserted that the Government had "again broken faith" by appointing a civilian to the post of Public Utilities Commissioner instead of a returned man. The civilian applicant, Mayor Gale, was figuratively impaled by the President of the New Westminster Association who held him up as a "slacker," a "pin-head," a "five-cent piece," just to mention a few epithets, mingled with a demand that the Government resign forthwith.

In the confused atmosphere which developed it may be difficult for some to see the whole situation in its proper perspective. And it may be as well to look at the thing in the light of cold fact. To begin with the statement can go unchallenged that British Columbia has done more for the returned soldier than any other province in the Dominion. It framed its legislation in intelligent anticipation of Federal needs and the Premier of this Province had the satisfaction of being told at the Inter-Provincial conference in November last, that British Columbia was ahead of Federal policies. So much was this the case that British Columbia provided a number of examples of emulation by other provinces of Canada. Equally true is it that much local machinery could not move until Federal plans had caught up. These are well-known facts and have been referred to on more than one occasion.

In the matter of appointments we venture to believe that most of the returned men were satisfied with the statistics supplied to the Legislature during its recent session. The leader of the soldier party himself complimented the Government and before the session ended said that "as far as the returned soldier is concerned, the House has not met in vain." The Province's immediate programme of public works or undertakings purely associated with repatriation tasks involves an outlay nearly equal to one year's income, in addition to some $13,000,000 to be expended in the normal public service. These are facts which should be borne in mind by those who are making charges of breaking faith.

Incidentally, it might be pertinent here to emphasize the fact that the Government's ability to meet the demands involved in the repatriation problem is limited by the financial resources at hand.

The Government has no secret treasure chest. The money required to carry on its functions is supplied by the people, and there is a limit to which the taxpayer can go. Abnormal times have induced him to go the limit and a bit beyond. But there comes a time under any circumstances when this self-same taxpayer—who, of course, represents the bulk of British Columbia's inhabitants—tells the Government of the day to "go easy." And if that Government persists in calling a tune, un mindful of his ability to dance to it, either the Government will get its marching order or he will remove himself to some quarter of the globe where his citizenship will get the recognition for which he pays. This is a condition which may have to be faced, and it should be recognized by everybody.

Let us remember, also, that while British Columbia is a great province, capital and industry are under no obligation to come here or to remain here. And capital and industry will not go where unrest prevails or where they are taxed to death. Stable conditions will hold the people and induce others to come. Reverse the process and see what will happen. As we have repeatedly said, the interests of the returned men must be indissoluble linked with those with the civil population as a whole, or both must suffer, and unless common ground is discovered between them no Government that man can create will deliver this Province to its destiny.

WHAT ITALY WANTS.

Secret treaties are bad enough at any time but in time of war they are specially apt to become double-edged in their capacity for causing trouble. Secret treaties negotiated in 1914 created many difficult situations for the Congress of Vienna. The secret treaties negotiated by Great Britain and France with Italy in the spring of 1915 are causing the Paris Conference no end of trouble now.

Those treaties promised Italy many things for coming into the war, including Fiume and Dalmatia on the eastern shore of the Adriatic. The Allies were greatly in need of Italian aid and their statesmen were concerned more with the existing emergency than with the possibility of future complications. There was nothing at that time to indicate that within four years a great Jug-Slav nation, including Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Croatia would be organized in the Balkan peninsula with the requirement of an adequate outlet on the Adriatic.

Italy now demands the fulfillment of the treaties of 1915, in respect of Fiume and Dalmatia. She claims that without these she will lack security from hostile attack, anticipating a possible irruption from Jug-Slavia. Her delegates hint that if her demands are not granted she will withdraw from the Conference and occupy the disputed places by force.

On the other hand Fiume, particularly, is preponderantly Slav and the majority of her population have determined in favor of incorporation in the new Jug-Slav nation. The Allies time and again have announced that they were fighting for the self-determination of peoples, while Serbia which, in proportion to her resources, fought, suffered and died more than any other single country in the war, and opposes the Italian claim, is entitled to very liberal consideration.

Numerous proposals for compromise have been made and rejected. One, was that Fiume be internationalized, but Italy would not hear of it. If she should withdraw from the Paris Conference and take the place by force her allies will be confronted with a difficult situation which might wreck the League of Nations at the very beginning of its career. Fiume was Austrian before the war and its people, who were mostly Slavs, now declare their preference for union with their countrymen. Which is going to prevail—the compact of 1915 or self-determination?

WHAT CANADA OWES.

It is estimated that the total net debt of Canada at the close of the coming year will be $1,750,000,000. This will involve an annual charge of $100,000,000 for interest and sinking fund, a sum, it might be added, equal to the whole yearly expenditure of the Canadian Government a very few years ago.

We shall have to raise for pensions and other purposes arising from the war at least $50,000,000 and, very likely, considerably more, so the Dominion's fixed charges under those two heads alone will be more than $150,000,000, an amount greater than the country's revenue in pre-war times. All this is apart from the ordinary expenditure of the Dominion which will call for a similar sum under the closest economy. Hence, in normal times the Dominion Government must budget for an annual expenditure of more than $300,000,000.

The total revenue of the Government now is about $305,000,000, but a very considerable proportion of this is the product of war taxation, the incidence of which is inequitable in many instances and which in its present form cannot be continued much longer. Thus, the Government will have to raise by a readjusted scale of taxation a sum equal to the amount it has been raising by extraordinary taxes based upon the exigencies of war.

The country has assumed through the Federal Government other heavy liabilities of uncertain future. It has taken over the Canadian Northern Railroad with its indebtedness of more than $400,000,000 upon which interest must be paid. It may have to take over the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific with more millions of fixed charges to meet every year. The deficits involved by the operation of those systems must be met directly or indirectly by taxation.

These imposing totals only refer to national finance. They do not include the liabilities and obligations of the provinces, municipalities and private corporations which must run into four or five billions more. Thus, under one head or another, the Canadian people will have to carry a formidable burden.

But burdens of this kind must be viewed in relation to the capacity of a country to bear them. The total wealth of Canada is estimated by the Dominion Statistician at Ottawa at $19,000,000,000 and the total income of the Canadian people at $2,000,000,000. The value of Canada's field crops alone last year was $1,367,909,970. With the expansion of population which is bound to be very marked in the next few years these totals will be greatly increased, for the country's resources have been only superficially developed. So when we examine the capacity of the country, its burden of liability shrinks to less alarming proportions.

The problem of Governments is to make the nation's wealth meet its annual requirements fairly, so that the greater part of the burden will fall upon those best able to bear it. Unless this is done a country's national wealth, no matter how great, cannot stand in its proper proportion to the amount required to enable it to pay its way.

ANOTHER BLUFF.

The German Government has announced that the delegates it is going to send to Versailles will not have power to sign the peace treaty but will only act as couriers to bring the terms to Berlin for consideration. The Paris Conference is reported to have informed the German Government that unless its representatives are clothed with full powers they will not be received.

German newspapers, with that suspicious unanimity which was apparent so often during the war, are declaring that Germany will refuse to sign the peace treaty if its terms are not satisfactory to her. All this is part of a big campaign of bluff and bluster of which the Berlin Government's announcement regarding the limited powers of the German delegates to Versailles is a part, and of which threats to become Bolshevik are other features.

Germany will be told that she must sign before the period of the armistice has expired and that if she does not do so the situation will be turned over to Foch. She lacks the moral courage to maintain passive resistance just as she lacked the moral courage to conduct a war of defence upon her own territory. She threw up her hands and yelled for mercy immediately she was kicked off the Hindenburg Line, the inevitable act of the nation which celebrated with public demonstration the murder of women and children. Germany will sign in the place she is told to sign.

An Ottawa dispatch a short time ago estimated the population of Canada at 8,800,000. If that dispatch is correct the increase in population since the census of 1911 is almost as great as the increase was in the ten preceding years. The population in 1911 was given at 7,296,643, so the number of people living in the Dominion has been augmented since then by about 1,600,000, notwithstanding the fact that during more than half that period the country has been engaged in war and its immigration, except from the United States, has been next to nothing.

BOUQUET FOR THE GOVERNMENT.
(Monetary Times.)

The British Columbia Government is to be congratulated upon the excellent form in which its estimates are presented. The comptroller, Mr. A. N. Mouat, who has had special charge of this work, commenced last year a new method of arranging the items. This is continued this year, and he is now able to give in parallel columns comparative figures showing the estimates for the two years. This comparison is carried into detailed items so that changes are easily apparent.

GUARANTEES FOR FRENCH REPUBLICFrench Press Devotes Attention to Allies' Guarantees
Against German Aggression

Paris, April 21.—The extent of the guarantees which Great Britain and the United States has given to the French as security against renewed German attacks continues to be the foremost topic in the French press. The French representatives maintain that the guarantees take the form of an alliance.

The Matin says: "This alliance has already been drawn in the form of a very brief text stipulating that the three powers will give each other mutual support if Germany should attack us again. The signing of the stipulation will occur at the same time as the signing of the treaty."

The United States officials withhold all comment on these reports. It is known, however, that a number of proposals were brought forward designed to give a more prompt and more effective guarantee of military assistance to the French than the League of Nations affords.

Wilson's Attitude. President Wilson's contention has been that the League is enough to guarantee in line with his speech before a plenary session of the Conference, when he said: "That is a definite guarantee of peace; it is a definite guarantee by the world against aggression; it is a definite guarantee against the thing which has just brought civilization to the verge of ruin."

The final plans for receiving the German delegates at Versailles and for delivering the treaty provide for complete secrecy, although an official communication will be issued after the treaty has actually been delivered, announcing this fact. Except for this, everything will be behind rigidly guarded doors, with military forces occupying all the surrounding precincts.

According to the terms Marshal Foch is said to have received from the Secretary-General of the Conference, the German envoys are to be treated as enemies until the treaty is signed and any communication with them will be subject to prosecution before a court-martial on the charge of dealing with the enemy. The purpose of this is said to be to prevent Versailles from being used as a base for widespread enemy propaganda, but the rigors of this order probably will wear off after the first few days.

The German delegation at Spa has a large military escort, with soldiers in helmets and carrying gas, but it is understood that none of the delegates or those accompanying them will wear uniforms while at Versailles, so as to avoid unnecessary friction.

MAJOR RETALLACK TO SUCCEED MAYOR GALE

by General J. W. Stewart and the Provincial President of the Great War Veterans' Association.

After more than three years with the Canadian Expeditionary Force Major Retallack has just received his discharge.

Also From Quebec.

Like Mayor Gale, Major Retallack was born in Quebec. He is fifty-five years of age and went to England for his education. He returned to Canada in 1883. For five years he served with the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and received his discharge in 1889 with the rank of sergeant. He came to British Columbia in January, 1890, and settled in the Kootenay section in the same year. While there he became engaged in railway construction, banking and mining, conducting his own private bank.

Knows the Ropes.

The newly appointed Commissioner is a mining engineer and a member of the Canadian Mining Institute. He is well versed in a knowledge of plans and corporation accounting. His understanding of and intimate interest in public problems involving transportation and economic questions has stood him in good stead during his public life. He is an active member of the Interior Board of Trade, and on three occasions he has been one of a delegation from the Kootenay to the Dominion Government on important public matters. Several times he has performed similar missions to the Parliament Buildings here.

Army Record.

In February, 1915, Major Retallack enlisted in the 48th Battalion as quartermaster, giving up a profitable business to serve his country. He was at Ypres and at the Somme in 1916, after which he was invalided for three months. Still desirous of adding to "his bit" he joined the H. Q. Canadian Railway Troops to assist in organizing the corps in December, 1916, and from March, 1917, to December, 1918, he acted in France as D. A. Q. M. G. Canadian Railway Troops.

PARIS PAPERS SAY
BAD FAITH DISPLAYED
BY THE GERMANS

The Associated Press is told that there are no illusions as to obtaining any mitigation in the dictatorial peace awaiting Germany.

The procedure of the Council of Four came as a surprise notwithstanding the fact that the news of the past week foreshadowed it, and it is interpreted in Cabinet circles and at the Foreign Office as final proof that the Entente is disinclined forthwith to enter into negotiations with Germany. The terms awaiting Germany are cut and dried.

More Couriers.

The German emissaries will merely have instructions to take the peace document back to Berlin. The question whether the present Government will assume the responsibility of accepting or rejecting the terms or whether it will present them for a national referendum is a matter of conjecture. Official opinion, so far as adduced to-night, is opposed to the declaration of a referendum and in favor of peremptory declaration of peace terms based on any other proposition than Mr. Wilson's platform, as the present temper of the German workmen is anti-capitalistic and anti-imperialistic and the bourgeoisie is in full accord with the proletariat.

No Plebiscite.

The present Government, it has been learned, is not flirting with the idea of a plebiscite, as it would much rather negotiate peace and set the country at peace settlement. It is also conscious that work not have a voice would precipitate a storm of national resentment which no Cabinet could weather.

The communication from the Entente Powers was received here Friday and the German answer was wired back this afternoon. Philipp Scheidemann, the Chancellor, called in representatives of the German press, and informed them of the Government's action.

SAVE THE BABIES

To the Editor:—After reading the report regarding impure milk case, dealt with in the city Police Court recently, one feels that getting off with paying a $5 fine is far too easy, and those who sell dirty milk ought to be severely dealt with. A good stiff jail sentence would make them sit up and take notice. We mothers are constantly being told that the babies are the nation's greatest asset. How then are we to have healthy babies if the milk supply is contaminated through unsanitary conditions? There may be an excuse for milk not being up to the required standard of butter fat, but there is no excuse for dirty milk.

As a solution for this unsatisfactory state of affairs I would suggest that, wherever possible, one should keep a milk-goat, which is two-thirds dairy of delicious and wholesome milk is quite enough to supply the average family. One of those hardy animals can easily be kept profitably on the vacant city and suburban lots, where one could not keep a cow. Goat's milk is superior to cow's milk and is recommended by the medical profession, as goats are practically immune from tuberculosis.

In keeping goats one has the satisfaction of knowing that the milk is pure and wholesome, and is also helping out the milk supply, which at present is an expensive item where there are a number of young children. Trusting that some abler pen than mine will take up this vital subject and bring to the notice of the public the many good qualities of the humble and often-ridiculed "nanny" who gives much and asks little, in return, I sign myself

A MOTHER.

PRICES OF MILK AND BUTTER.

To the Editor:—Regarding your article on the increase in the prices of milk and butter in to-day's issue, would it not have been better for you to have had your representative investigate a little farther before flying off the handle?

Did he inform you how many of the producers of dairy products came out ahead during the last four years? Did he tell you that the producers have been earning less than their hired help during the same period, with the work of their wives and families thrown in, and still getting nothing on their investment? Are you not aware that the Government has raised the taxes on the producer fifty per cent.; that the price of everything he buys has been increased fifty per cent.; that the price of farm labor has increased fifty per cent.; and that the price he gets for his dairy products has not increased in proportion?

Did your representative compare the prices paid for dairy products in the Fraser Valley, where the land is 100 per cent. more productive than on the island, with the prices paid here?

If it were not for the Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association you would have been importing more than fifty per cent. of your dairy products than you do now, as more than that number would have had to have gone out of the business several years ago. Before you rush into print on this subject again you ought to compare the prices paid here with what the consumer would have to pay if these products had to be all imported.

Why It's a Mistake
to Delay
Your Purchase of a NEW EDISON

Most everything you buy wears out eventually. An automobile, for example—or a suit of clothes. So the longer you delay its purchase the longer you'll have it to enjoy.

Not so with a New Edison. It will outlive you anyway. Every month you delay is just one more month gone from your life—another month in which you might have had your life enriched by music—but didn't.

The New Edison cost $3,000,000 to perfect. It is the only instrument which successfully meets the test of direct comparison with the living artist's voice or instrument. It will bring into your home the world's best music, sung or played by the world's great artists. Call to-morrow for a demonstration. "Send it out to the house" will be your verdict.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Water Barrel

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, sat up in his bed of dried leaves in his hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"What's that funny sound I hear?" asked the rabbit, making his pink nose twinkle like a sunflower.

What he heard was a splashing, splashing, rubbing, dubbing, chugging, chugging sound. Uncle Wiggily hopped out of bed and looked from the window. Down in the yard he saw Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzys, his muskrat lady housekeeper, striding the clothes line. "Why, my goodness me, sakes alive and some canned peaches!" cried the bunny. "Here it is wash day, and I'm not up to help Nurse Jane. I must hurry!"

Quickly he jumped into his clothes, quickly he hopped down stairs, and quickly he ate his breakfast of fried orange lollipops with cabbage sauce sprinkled over them. Then Uncle Wiggily went out in the yard.

"Oh, Nurse Jane!" he said. "I'm sorry I didn't get up early to help you dust the clothes pins, or make the soap-suds for your Cast-I-be-suds, now, with the washing, before I go off to look for an adventure!"

"If it is very kind of you to offer, I'm sure," said Nurse Jane. "If you like you may bring me in some water from the barrel outside."

"What's the matter with the water you get from the faucets over the kitchen sink?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, that is what we call hard water," said Nurse Jane. "I don't mean that it feels hard, but that it won't make a good, soapy lather to wash the clothes. Just outside the bungalow is a barrel of rain water. If you'll bring me in some pails of that water, which is nice and soft, I'll make a good lather and wash your shirts."

"That will be nice," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll bring you in a lot of soft water from the rain barrel, Nurse Jane." For the water in the barrel at the corner of the bungalow was some that had rained down from the clouds. Rain water is nice and soft for washing clothes, and makes a fine suds for blowing pipe-bubbles, too.

Uncle Wiggily took a pail and dipped it in the rain barrel. Then, with the pail dripping full, the bunny carried it to the tubs in the kitchen where Nurse Jane was washing.

And as Uncle Wiggily dipped up and carried into the bungalow the water from the rain barrel he twinkled his pink nose and even whistled a little song.

"This may not be a very exciting adventure," said the bunny rabbit, "but it's helping Nurse Jane, and I ought to be glad to do it. But, all the same, I wish something would happen," said Uncle Wiggily. And it did. All of a sudden, too.

Just after Uncle Wiggily had drawn about the tenth pail of water, and the rain barrel was nearly empty, and he had to stoop away down in over the rim to fill the pail, just as this happened, all at once, around the corner

He intends to return to England almost immediately, and to proceed to Spitzbergen.

At St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, this afternoon, 1.30 a very pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. J. W. Flinton when Miss Ethel Victoria Bridges, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bridges, of Cloverdale, became the bride of George Victor Jarvis, third son of H. A. Jarvis, of Doodington, Kent, England. The groom is a returned soldier, late sergeant of the 11th Battery, C. F. A., with which he served in France. He is one of four brothers who have served, one of whom was killed in action. The bride made a winsome picture in her gown of white crepe de chine, hand embroidered and with pearl trimmings, with which she wore an embroidered veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. She was attended by a bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Sybil Bridges, charmingly gowned in grey tulle, trimmed with braid and beads, with which she wore a hat of grey and sage blue georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. The groom was supported by F. J. Morrison, late of the 168th Battalion. The service was fully choral and Mrs. E. M. Brake presided at the organ. The bride's gift to the groom was a diamond stickpin; the groom's to the bride, a pearl sunburst brooch; to the bridesmaid a brooch, and to the best man a pair of cuff-links. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, a number of the friends of the young couple attending to extend their felicitations. Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis left on the 4.30 boat for Seattle and other Sound cities, and on their return will make their home at Cloverdale.

HOLY GEE, MY HEAD FEELS GOOD TO-DAY!

Pain Over Eyes Is Gone, Headache Cured, Catarrh Relieved!

This is the Common Experience of Those Who Breathe the Vapor of

Catarrhazone

Remember this, Catarrh can never be cured or even relieved by a cough syrup, a spray, or tablet treatment. Trouble is these remedies slip quickly over the sore irritated membranes, drop into the stomach and do little else but harm digestion. It's different with "Catarrhazone"—you inhale it. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing pine essences. The cough dies away, throat is strengthened, breathing is cured. Nothing is so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhazone. The dollar outfit includes the inhaler, costs $1, and is guaranteed to cure. TO WALK TO NEW YORK ACROSS CONTINENT

Seattle, April 20.—Equipped like infantry for heavy marching order and prepared to eat their meals by the roadside and sleep in friendly haymows, if necessary, Mrs. Marguerite Remington Charter, Seattle writer, and her daughter, Miss Pryllie M. Charter, started yesterday morning on their long walk to New York. The beginning of the tramp was made from the home of Mrs. Edgar Blair, of Brighton Park, at whose home the mother and daughters had been guests for a number of days, during which they took long walks in the Rainier valley to get in training for their coast-to-coast jaunt. They figured on spending their first night near the summit of Snoqualmie Pass and the following night east of the mountains.

Leading a pack horse, carrying blankets, sleeping tent and ration, the three women made a strange sight, as they started down Rainier boulevard on a brisk walk. The wayfarers were followed by two pedigreed cocker spaniels and in handy reach on the horse's pack was a rifle, which Mrs. Charter, who is a sportswoman of some note, uses with considerable accuracy. She intends to supply the ladies with game in passing through the mountains, and mother and daughters will whip the streams for fish when the fancy takes them.

The walking-tourists expect to reach New York in six months' time, though the jaunt will not be an attempt to break any records. They figure on twenty or twenty-five miles a day as an average walk.

Ability

Discussing the situation which has developed in connection with the post of Public Utilities Commissioner, and particularly in view of the withdrawal of His Worship Mayor Gale, whose name had been recommended to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Oliver said to The Times representative this morning:

"The Government is here to carry on the business of Government in the name of His Majesty. We are under certain obligations entailed by our oath of office, which is a very stringent one indeed. We cannot discuss what goes on in Executive or give the reasons which actuate us, except to a very limited extent.

"The governing principle," continued Mr. Oliver, "is that we are here to administer our public office with due regard to the interests of the people as a whole and not especially to one particular class, section or party.

The Deciding Factor.
"With regard to the question of Mayor Gale's appointment to the post of Public Utilities Commissioner, his experience in administering public affairs, especially in view of the possibility of enlarging the Commission next year so as to invest in the Board a reasonable amount of municipal control, was undoubtedly the deciding factor in his selection at the present time. "I do not think," went on the Premier, "that in the minds of reasonable men his appointment could in any way be considered as a slur upon any returned soldier applicant or as in any way breaking faith with the returned man. Here again the governing principle must be fitness for the position, and the judges of that fitness must be the members of the Executive Council, to whom has been entrusted and is entrusted the administration of the public affairs of the Province."
"In no sense," concluded Mr. Oliver,

"could Mayor Gale's appointment be considered a party one, and I am not aware that he has ever been identified with the Liberal Party politically."

Brings Prisoner Here.—Detective Sergeant O'Leary returned last night from Calgary, bringing with him J. H. King, who will be arraigned in the Police Court to-morrow morning on a charge of embezzlement. King was agent of the International Sales Co., of Vancouver.

For Friendly Game.—Dr. Raynor announces that the elder members of the Victoria West Brotherhood have issued a challenge to the younger men for a friendly game of football at Victoria West School grounds on Wednesday.

RETURNED SOLDIERS' COMMISSION TO BE FULLY REORGANIZED

Provincial Cabinet Recommends Advisory Board and a Paid Chairman

MAJOR F. A. ROBERTSON,
D. S. O., IS NEW OFFICIAL

At this morning's meeting of the Provincial Executive a decision was reached to reorganize completely the Provincial Returned Soldiers' Commission. In addition to the present paid secretary the Commission will henceforward have a paid chairman and an advisory board. Major Francis Arthur Robertson, D.S.O., of Victoria, will be recommended to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor for the chairmanship. George F. Pyke, the present efficient secretary, will act in that capacity, and these two officials will possess executive authority and under their jurisdiction, jointly with the Board, all work throughout the Province will be carried on.

Advisory Board.
It is the intention to form the Advisory Board of one civilian and one returned soldier from each of the following points: Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo, ten in all including the chairman and secretary. The returned soldiers to be selected from each city will be taken from a local committee of six members to be composed of three civilians and three returned soldiers. The remainder of the Province is to be completely re-organized and local committees established at all points. Where possible, if adaptable to the needs of the new organization, the existing committees will be included in the scheme because of their experience gained in handling the work hitherto.

The work of the local committees will be partially supported by local subscription which will be augmented by Government grants from time to time as circumstances demand and funds permit, all such grants, however, will be made on the advice of the Advisory Board.

Major Robertson.
When he broke out Major Robertson was a captain in the 5th Regiment and on August 4 he was mobilized for duty at Macaulay Point. He was afterwards given command on Rod Hill Fort. On March 1, 1915, he joined the 7th Infantry Battalion at New Westminster, going overseas with that unit in November, 1915.

Wounded and "Mentioned."
In August, 1916, Major Robertson went with the battalion to France and served first in the line at Ypres and afterwards on the Somme where in an attack made on Regina Trench, near Courcellette, he was severely wounded, resulting in the loss of his right eye. After a considerable time in hospital he transferred to the Artillery and was soon given the command of the 12th Canadian Siege Battery, comprising six-inch howitzers. His battery took an active part in the Amiens battle, commencing on August 8, 1918, but on August 26 he was unlucky enough to be again severely wounded, this time losing his right leg above the knee, also a finger, besides getting several flesh wounds. For the splendid work of the battery during the Amiens battle, Major Robertson, as O. C., was awarded the D. S. O., and was also mentioned in Sir Douglas Haig's dispatches of November 8 last.

Civil Life.
Major Robertson is a graduate of Manitoba University, 1902, and was Principal of the Pilot Mound Public School, Manitoba, for one year. Afterwards he took up business college work in Regina and Edmonton, where he was in charge of a branch of Winnipeg College. For the few years previous to the war he was in partnership with his brother doing business under the name of Robertson Brothers.

His brother, Captain A. E. Robertson, went overseas last summer, and took with him the model of an invention for a new type of gun. The Imperial Inventions Board adopted his invention, and is for the present retaining Captain Robertson's services to bring his invention to the practical point.

LIEUT. WATSON HAS SHARP FIGHT WITH RICHTOFEN CIRCUS

Comes Back With French
Croix de Guerre
Decoration

Lead into a trap set by the famous Richtofen circus and having to fight his way out when many miles behind the German lines was the experience of Lieut. W. O. Watson, Croix de Guerre, son of ex-Fire Chief Tom Watson, who returned after four years and eight months' war service, yesterday afternoon.

Lieut. Watson tells a most thrilling story of his escape from the Hun. At that time he was attached to the Fifth Group working out of Dunkirk, employed chiefly in bombing Zeppelins, Ostend and Bruges by day. The squadron, consisting of twelve planes, was returning from a successful raid at 14,000 feet, when a flock of German fighters was sighted and was recognized as part of the Richtofen outfit. The British planes, although outnumbered, gave fight and were progressing favorably, when it was noticed that another section of the circus was closing in on the other side. The squadron was now terribly outnumbered, but set half its forces to combat the new forces. By this time the R. A. F. boys had shot down six Huns and the Boche had bagged two. Still another Hun squadron appeared and was manoeuvring so as to head off the British. It seemed like a hopeless case and the Hun evidently figured that the squadron would break its formation and turn about, in which case he could shoot down the bombers at his ease.

In this the Hun was entirely out-guessed. The British still had ten machines in the air and the Hun numbered fifty-five fighters. At a signal from the squadron leader the surviving planes performed a nose dive and passed under the Boche formation and made the British lines without further mishap.

A Second Encounter.
Lieut. Watson tells of another experience he had with a circus, which on this occasion he was unable to identify. They were on their way back after dropping their eggs on Zeppelins when thirty-five Hun machines hove in sight. Usually the squadron gave battle and was successful in shooting down four Boche while two of their own planes were shot down, although the wounded pilots succeeded in landing inside their own lines.

When asked as to what action brought him the Croix de Guerre, Lieut. Watson said it was nothing much, but finally told the story. When returning from a bombing raid he fell in with a French squadron which was out on a similar raid. One of the French planes was shot down and Watson, who was flying at 4,000 feet, followed the custom of flyers by diving down to earth to learn the fate of the pilot. The machine landed many miles behind the German lines, but the pilot was uninjured. Watson immediately made a landing and while the machine was taxiing along the ground the French flyer leaped on board. In order to carry the extra passengers Watson's observer had to throw all the ammunition overboard. For this act the local boy was recommended for honors from the French Government.

Daylight Bombing.
Lieut. Watson gives an interesting account of daylight bombing. He took part in thirty bombing raids and also participated in a great many flights for obtaining photographs and information. The fifth group was assigned the work of bombing Zeppelins, Ostend and Bruges. Usually eighteen machines formed the squadron and most of the planes carried two 112-pound bombs and a few smaller ones.

When nearing these places the squadron was subjected to a terrific bombardment from the anti-aircraft batteries and Watson claims that the German gunners were splendid shots. The first round, a lightning shot, usually burst directly under the planes and the force of the explosion would lift them about 100 feet and then they would fall. Following the first round the sky would become a mass of black puffs from bursting shells. The squadron flew directly through the barrage and every machine would be riddled with holes. Many aviators were shot down, a number of whom landed safely in Holland.

Watson tells of one experience he had when bearing the brunt of the shell fire. The fabric of his machine was nearly all shot away and his oil supply was cut off. He did not know whether to glide down into Holland or try to get back. Finally he decided that he would like to see a little more of the war and started back for the British lines. He landed three miles inside French territory.

Lieut. Watson left here with the first draft of gunners from the Fifth Regiment, C.G.A., in August, 1914. He went to France with the 3rd Battery, C.F.A., and later transferred to the Motor Transport. Two years ago he obtained a commission in the Royal Air Force.

Lieut. Watson has two brothers still overseas. Jim Watson went overseas with the First Contingent and has served throughout the war with the 3rd Battery. Tom Watson left in 1915 and joined the 3rd Battery.

SUBSCRIPTIONS OPENED

Subscription lists to provide funds for entertaining the Island men of the 7th Battalion have been opened at The Times and Colonist offices. A determined attempt is being made to provide a fitting entertainment for the returned warriors and the committee in charge is anxious that every citizen will lend his support to the movement. According to the latest information the boys will arrive here on Friday, and arrangements are now being made to banquet them. Vancouver expects to entertain the battalion prior to demobilization on Thursday.

The 7th Battalion is the first original unit to return to British Columbia. It was formed in Valcartier in 1914 of western troops and at Salisbury Plains was placed in the first division. It has seen the hardest fighting of the war, making a most remarkable and stubborn defence in the Second Battle of Ypres, which saved the Channel ports on that historic day, four years ago to-morrow. It is unfortunate that the boys are not back in time to participate in the anniversary services to be held to-morrow evening at the High School.

The total strength of the 7th Battalion returning is twenty officers and 394 other ranks. Of the original battalion there are not more than twenty-five returning.

VICTORIA THE NORTHWEST THE WORLD

VICTORIA NINE ALL READY FOR START OF PENNANT RACE WEDNESDAY

New Arrivals Will Take Part in Game Against All-Stars To-night at Royal Athletic Park

Rain prevented the Victoria players in the International Northwestern League lining up against the team of All-Stars at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, after nearly 2,000 fans had taken a chance on the threatening weather in the hopes that it might clear up, and give the boys a chance to perform. In view of the fact that the game had to be cancelled, another meeting has been arranged for to-night to commence at 6.30, and although the fans were disappointed Saturday additional arrivals since that day should make to-night's game more attractive. Jimmy Church arrived in the city to-day, Hinkle and Zinke have also been secured in readiness for the big game.

McNulty Out.

Jim Brown, the general manager of the Victoria nine in the Northwestern League came back from Seattle, where he had been on a short business trip to-day. Although two of the players that he was expecting to carry the island colors in the race for the pennant to be out of the running, the manager still had good cause for the smile. McNulty, he announced, will not come to Victoria. His arrival was expected before the season opened, but Mac had indiscreetly offered him that have caused him to decide to stay in Sacramento, but the addition of Hinkle fills the breach, and gives something to spare. Hinkle who has been with the Salt Lake Club is an outfielder, and a change catcher, and unless Mr. Brown is very much mistaken, is certain to make good. Liefer is doubtful. Seattle may secure his services this season and in that event Zinke will wear the island colors. Zinke is a three hundred nine in the Royal Athletic Park for Spokane in 1916-17, and for Aberdeen last year. When "play ball" is called for the first time in the International Northwestern League at 3 o'clock on Saturday at the Royal Athletic Park, Brown expects his line-up to read something like this:

Mensor	Centre Field
Corrigan	Third Base
Easterly	Catcher
Mullen	First Base
Church	Second Base
Hinkle	Right Field
Armstrong	Shortstop
Zinke	Left Field
Morton	Pitcher

Has a Native Son.

Another ex-soldier of the list is Charlie Mullen, first baseman, who is the last man to be enrolled. Mullen is also a native son of Victoria, although he has been away from the city for some time. He defied the costume of the diamond to get into a lieutenant's uniform of the United States forces last year, but before that he had a lot of good baseball experience, although he is still a youngster. He was only eighteen years of age when he was grabbed for the University of Washington team. From there he went to the Chicago White Sox with whom he played first base for three years and utility man. He afterwards managed the Lincoln Club in the Western League and then went to New York and later to Toledo.

Jimmy Church got into Victoria to-day. On his way from Seattle Brown met the second baseman, journeying from San Francisco, and piloted him to the island.

ATTRACTIONS PLANNED FOR BILLIARD PARLOR

Tournament and Exhibition Games Will Be Held at Two Jacks

Although the opening ceremony of the Two Jacks new English billiard parlor will not take place until Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, entries for the handicap tournament, which will commence immediately after the opening, have been numerous, and the tournament promises to be one of the most interesting staged in the city. The first round will be drawn as soon as the handicapper has decided on the prizes for the entries. Some good prizes have been offered to tempt the cue experts. Fifty dollars has been offered to the winner, and the other prizes are as follows: Second, $30; third, $20; fourth, $15; fifth, $10; sixth, $7.50; seventh, $5; eighth, $2.50.

London, April 21.—(Canadian Press.)—The New Zealanders who on Wednesday beat the Mother Country in the Imperial service rugby tournament and won the King's Cup, met and defeated the French army team at Twickenham on Saturday by 20 points to 3.

WITH THE BLIGHT OF WAR LIFTED BASEBALL PROMISES TO RETURN TO ITS OLD PLANE

Shorter Season With 140 Games in the Race for the Pennant Instead of 164

New York, April 21.—The coming week will usher in another baseball season under conditions which the major league magnates, players and fans hope and expect will be more fruitful than those of the past few years. With the blight of war lifted from the national sport, it is the belief in all sections that the game will rebound to the heights of popularity which it enjoyed previous to the devastating sweep of world-wide hostilities.

A New Period.

League officials and club owners, with this idea in mind, have devoted the past few months to preparing for a new period in baseball and their handiwork is evident in many directions. Radical changes made in methods and system of conducting the big leagues at the annual meetings of magnates. Individual club owners have labored to improve the strength of their forces and through the team managers have purchased or traded players in order to round out formidable combinations.

How well they have builded only time can demonstrate, but viewed from the standpoint of the present it would appear as though both the National and American circuits were stronger and better balanced than has been the case in recent seasons. Before the pennant races are well under way it is expected that the last of the diamond stars now serving with the forces, either at home or abroad, will have doffed the khaki for baseball flannel. Many will reappear upon the field with a glamor heretofore lacking, and the fans' welcome will be backed by a sentiment containing something more than the admiration due the player for his playing ability alone.

The Pennant Winners.

For more than forty years the National League has marshalled its playing forces each spring and sent its teams away on another pennant chase just as it will do again during the next few days. Since 1876 twenty-two cities have been represented, at one time or another, on the senior circuit with from three to twelve clubs finishing the pennant races. Boston leads in number of championships won, as the teams of that city have accounted for thirteen pennants. Chicago is second with ten and New York with eight. Of the forty-one pennants Eastern clubs have captured twenty-seven and the West fourteen. In the American League fourteen cities have figured since its formation in 1900. Philadelphia and Boston have won six and five pennants respectively, while Chicago captured four and Detroit three.

This year the clubs face a shorter season, and a pennant race of 140 games in place of the usual 164. When the teams take the field on Wednesday with Chicago at St. Louis, Cleveland at Detroit, Philadelphia at Washington and Boston at New York, on the American League circuit, and Brooklyn at Boston, New York at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh at Chicago and St. Louis at Cincinnati, in the National League, the 1919 season will be about a week later in starting than has been the case in past years.

Team Managers.

The National League managers this year are as follows: New York, John McGraw; Cincinnati, "Pat" Moran; Pittsburgh, Hugo Bezdek; Brooklyn, Wilbert Robinson; Boston, George Stallings; Philadelphia, "Jack" Coombs; St. Louis, "Branch" Rickey. The American League managers are as follows: Boston, Ed Barrow; Cleveland, Lee Fohl; Washington, Clarke Griffith; New York, Miller Huggins; St. Louis, Jimmy Burke; Chicago, "Kid" Gleason; Detroit, Hugh Jennings; Philadelphia, Connie Mack.

New managers.

The umpires in the American and National Leagues for the coming season follow: American League—T. H. Connolly, W. G. Evans, W. Dineen, G. Hildebrand, G. B. Owens, H. S. Nalin, G. Moriarty and O. Chitt.

National League—H. O'Day, W. Klem, C. Rigler, W. Byron, R. Emshie, W. Quigley, P. Harrison and C. Moran.

Madison, Wis., was second with a score of 2,851, Cleveland third, one point behind Madison, with 2,850, and Oakland, Cal., was fourth with a score of 2,787.

Winnipeg, April 21.—In the rotary tournament on Saturday night the Winnipeg rotary trundlers rolled the maple for an aggregate of 3,124. H. Pelenz was the high scorer with 437.

Winnipeg, April 21.—Rolling the first half of the Inter-city Bowling League annual championship match here Saturday, the Winnipeg Commercial League team scored 5,430 in six games against 5,361 by the Brandon team, giving the Winnipeg team a margin of sixty-nine pins entering the final series of six games at Brandon next Saturday. Brandon holds the Inter-city Cup.

EASTER MUSIC AT CHURCHES YESTERDAY

Large Congregations at City Churches; Floral Decorations Reflect Easter Theme

Commemorative of the Easter festival most of the city churches at their services yesterday featured special music appropriate to the occasion, the music and addresses reflecting the joyous theme of the Resurrection. The churches were beautified by the lavish use of blossoms associated with Easter. Madonna and Arum lilies being used with beautiful effect. Large congregations were the order of the day.

At the Metropolitan Methodist Church the choir at the evening service rendered Handel's Messiah, a large congregation assembling to hear this masterpiece of the great composer. Edward Parsons presided, at the organ and the soloists were Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Downard, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Edward Williams, Miss Barker, J. O. Dunford and Percy Edmonds. In the morning Mrs. Edmonds sang the solo "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

Jackson Hanby's choir at the evening service at the First Presbyterian Church gave the Easter hymns, "Come, See the Place Where He Lay," and "Christ is Risen." Mrs. Hudson sang "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," and Lesau, Shapen, of W. A. rendered "The Good Shepherd."

In the morning the choir sang the Easter carols, "Welcome, Happy Morn," Jackson's "Te Deum," and an anthem, "I Will Mention Thy Loving Kindness." Two young girls from the Bible Class, Miss Beatrice McDonald and Florence Laveen, rendered, respectively, "Consider the Lilies of the Field" and "He Leadeth Me."

Mediamen Jesse Longfield, Grant, and Messrs. F. Simpson and E. Petch were the soloists at St. Andrew's Church, where appropriate anthems were rendered by an augmented choir.

WEEK-END ROBBERY

Party Entered Candy Store and Stole $26 and Large Quantity of Cigarettes.

The regular week-end robbery took place during the early hours of Sunday morning, when some unknown party entered the premises of Paul, a Greek, who operates a fruit and candy store at 611 Johnson Street, and stole $26 from the cash register, and a large quantity of cigarettes.

Every week-end for some time past a robbery has been committed in the city. The police believe that the deeds are perpetrated by small boys, as they seem to have a failing for cigarettes. Whoever commits the crime seems to lay a deliberate plan and gets away without leaving any trace. In the robbery of Paul's premises a party entered through a rear window which was loose.

Severe punishment will be handed out to anyone found guilty of these crimes.

Heart Palpitated Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate, it will beat fast for several seconds, the slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangement.

Mrs. Wanda Graves, Aspley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could not get any rest."

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all druggists, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OWNERS SHOULD LOCK THEIR AUTOMOBILES

Chief of Police Langley Points Out That This Would Stop Mania for Stealing

All automobile owners are advised by Chief of Police Langley to lock their cars when they leave them on the streets for any time. This practice would put an end to the great amount of automobile-stealing which is now prevalent in this city.

The chief points out that according to Section 24 of the Provincial Motor Act, it is necessary for every person to lock his car and in failing to do this is just as guilty as if he drove his car without lights or leaves it on the street after dark without a light.

Recently there has been a mania in Victoria for stealing motor cars irrespective of ownership. The police, while in every case, were successful in recovering the car, have been unable to find any trace of the guilty parties.

In the morning Mrs. Edmonds sang the solo "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

Persons who have left their cars on the street to attend a show or to enter a store on business, have found their autos missing on returning. More inquisitive thieves have actually broken into garages and taken out the cars.

The police believe that the guilty persons are young people who have no great desire to steal the car but simply wish to have a wild ride, although there appears to be an element which uses the cars in preference to a railroad journey up the island. The number of stolen motors found in the vicinity of Nanaimo is evidence of the latter supposition.

If there was some method followed of locking a car Chief Langley is confident that no cars would be taken. In some cases people chain a front wheel to the axle, and there are many other ingenious devices which could be employed. The fact that there is a safety device on a car is a sure deterrent to any plans an automobile thief may have.

HOW CIVIC ABATTOIR WORKS IN TORONTO

Large Sum of Money Lost; Small Establishment Suggested for Victoria

Toronto's experience with a municipal abattoir should prove of interest to the advocates of such an establishment for Victoria. The following extract from a recent issue of The Financial Post explains the workings of the civic abattoir in that city:

"Toronto's white elephant, the civic abattoir, continues to drain the city's finances at an alarming rate, and is now a quarter of a million dollars in the hole. Last year the cost of operating the institution amounted to $104,662, while the revenue was so small that a loss of $75,000 was shown."

"Even the most ardent advocates of public ownership in the City Council are admitting that the situation looks bad, and at this week's meeting it was decided to set a committee to work to make a thorough investigation of the whole business. It is a foregone conclusion just what the result will be."

Already Finance Commissioner Bradshaw, who for one does not believe in saddling the whole of the population of a city with the cost of operating undertakings for the benefit of the few, has expressed the expert view that it is impossible to make the enterprises remunerative, even if the city had power to force every butcher outside of the packing interests to slaughter all animals at the abattoir."

It is pointed out, however, that the establishment which members of the City Council have suggested for Victoria would be a comparatively small affair, and cannot therefore be justly compared with the huge institution operated by the city of Toronto. The estimated cost of a building located at Gassally Yard is only a few hundred dollars.

THE COUNCIL OF THE VICTORIA BOARD OF TRADE on Thursday appointed a special committee to take up the matter of a joint tour of the Province, as suggested by T. P. Pastullo here recently with the Victoria Board and report back to the Council.

The Minister of Lands has taken the question up with other public bodies in Vancouver and Victoria, and has expressed the belief that such a trip would be productive of great benefits to not only the coast cities, but also every other section of the Province.

Special rates, he says, could be obtained from railway and steamship companies to prevent the excursion becoming too expensive for the average man of affairs. If the people of the coast will get to know more about British Columbia's interior sections the business co-operation resulting would be beneficially reflected on all sides.

It is suggested that the first trip be made through the western section of the Province, the party leaving Vancouver or Victoria for Prince Rupert, thence to Prince George, by launch and motor south to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, and west to the end of the steel at Smith and south again by boat to Vancouver. It is estimated this trip could be accomplished in about ten or twelve days.

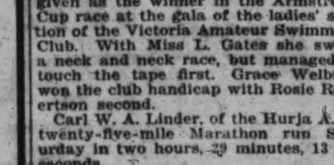

THE WINNERS

Miss E. Welburn should have been given as the winner in the Armstrong Cup race at the gala of the ladies' section of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club. With Miss L. Gates she swam a neck and neck race, but managed to touch the tape first. Grace Welburn won the club handicap with Rosie Robertson second.

Carl W. A. Linder, of the Hurja A. C., twenty-five-mile Marathon run Saturday in two hours, 39 minutes, 13 2-5 seconds.

Graduating Nurses.—To the official list supplied to The Times of the St. Joseph's Hospital Graduating Class who will participate in the graduating exercises at the St. Anne's Academy on Thursday should be added the name of Miss Gladys Croft.

MOTOR CAR AND THREE SOLDIERS DISAPPEAR

Believed Soldiers Stole Car Which Was Later Found on Outskirts of Nanaimo

Every effort is being exerted, both by the police of Victoria and Nanaimo, to connect the disappearance of a motor car from this city on Saturday evening with the desertion of three soldiers from Work Point Barracks on the same day. Last evening the police were informed that the motor car had been found on the side of a road on the outskirts of Nanaimo and that three soldiers had entered a candy shop there to buy biscuits.

The owner of the motor car left it outside the Central Apartments, Princess Avenue, on Saturday evening, and it was missing when he returned. The police were informed, and at once sent wires to all points on the island. The Nanaimo authorities instituted a thorough search, as many motor cars which have been stolen in Victoria have been located around the Coast City. Yesterday the police found the car in good condition, but out of gasoline.

Three soldiers made a successful escape from Work Point on Saturday, and it is believed that they took the car in order to make a quick getaway. The Nanaimo police learned from a candy dealer that three soldiers, corresponding to the description furnished by the local force, purchased biscuits from him.

The police are now on the trail of the soldiers, and if they are successful in locating them, expect to secure the persons who stole the motor car.

MANY ENJOY EASTER IN THE OUT-OF-DOORS

Victoria Passed Pleasant Holiday Yesterday in the Country

The out-of-doors beckoned large numbers of Victorians into the country and the neighboring beaches to spend the holiday yesterday, while the city churches at their most important services of the year were well attended, both morning and evening.

In the afternoon the roads were crowded with automobiles, while all outboard street cars were filled with parties of holiday makers. At the Gorge, Beacon Hill, Oak Bay, the Up-lands and other popular resorts many happy hours were passed. Numerous picnic parties, too, chose the seaside as the scene of their outdoor feasts, the beaches being crowded with people of all ages. Canoeing proved a popular diversion at the Gorge.

Large luxuriant bunches of flowers were the reward of those who sought the country to pass their holiday, lilies and dogwood being gathered in particularly large quantities.

KENNEL CLUB TO HOLD PARLOR SHOW

Exhibition of Dogs Will Be Staged at Crystal Theatre Shortly

The Parlor Show to be staged by the Victoria City Kennel Club at the Crystal Theatre next Saturday evening, is expected to prove a great success, as keen interest is being taken by numerous fanciers.

The show is open to any person who has a dog for exhibition as to its merits. Many a famous dog has started its career by being benched first at a parlor show.

This exhibition will also prove of great interest to those who anticipate entering their dogs for the Vancouver Spring Show, to be held on May 23 and 24.

The club therefore extends a cordial invitation to all owners to be present, and exhibit their best animals.

The club is to be congratulated on securing the following well known experts to act as judges for the evening: T. P. McConnell, for Sporting Dogs; F. Butler, Terriers, and J. W. Creighton, Spaniels and Toys.

The judging will be done on the stage, and thus give the audience full view of the proceedings.

FAMOUS COURT ROOM

DUPLICATED IN FILM

Replica of Court of General Sessions in New York Seen at Royal Victoria

One of the finest settings ever supplied for any motion picture, is the court room scene in "Out of the Shadow," the latest Paramount photoplay starring Pauline Frederick, which will be displayed for the first time in this city at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night and all this week. The set is the replica of Part I. Court of General Sessions in New York City, one of the most elaborately appointed tribunals in the country.

It is in this court room that Ruth Minchin, the part played by Pauline Frederick, is tried for the murder of her drunken husband who has treated her brutally from the date of their marriage. She is acquitted because of lack of evidence to convict, and to disabuse the public mind as to her guilt, she begins a quest for the assassin and finally prevails upon the real slayer, a pianist, to confess the murder. Miss Frederick is finely supported, her leading man being Wyndham Standing. A Mutt and Jeff comedy make up the balance of the same programme.

SILVER KING IS SPECIAL ATTRACTION

William Faversham in Film of Favorite Play at Dominion

When we use the word "special" we mean just what Webster's New International Dictionary means, namely: "Distinguished by some unusual quality; uncommon; extraordinary; especially distinguished by superior excellence, importance, power or the like." That describes "The Silver King." The production as a whole is distinguished by unusual quality. William Faversham is an extraordinary actor. His supporting cast is distinguished by superior excellence. The story is of so much importance that it has been produced for stage-goers again and again during the last two generations. It is difficult to describe in words the charm of this melodrama, it is so vivid and tense. The man who ran away from a crime he did not commit is of so extraordinary a type, and the action is so fast that mere words in cold type cannot convey even an idea of the tremendous power of "The Silver King."

It has to be seen and felt—Yes! It's so big you'll actually feel it! It's on all this week; can't you come right now?

William Faversham will be remembered by theatregoers here for his delightful acting when he appeared in person a few weeks ago in Lord and Lady Algy. The great emotional star has made as striking a success on the screen as he did on the stage. His performance in "The Silver King" will thrill you through and through.

MARGARITA FISHER NOW AT ROMANO

Entertaining Comedy Shares With Pearl White Feature This Week

"Fair Enough," the sprightly romance featuring Margarita Fisher, made by the American Film Company and released by Pathe, is one of the oddest narratives ever used for a screen play. It shows how the very girl who is destined by her mother to become a social hothouse plant, and who is selected as the wife of a fop, takes matters into her own hands and turns out to be a thistle in the garden of conventionality, as it were.

It is interpreted by a carefully selected cast of players, as follows: Ann Dickson, Margarita Fisher; Carey Pheasant, Jack Mower; "Happy" Flanagan, "Bull" Montana; Frederick Piereson, Harry McCoy; James Dickson, Alfred Hollingsworth; Helen Dickson, Eupenie Forder; Madame Ohnet, Grace Knowlan and Chief Morgan, J. Farrell McDonald.

This makes the picture, which will be shown at the Romano to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, an "all-star cast" play. Harry McCoy, said to have stopped more custard pies than any man alive, plays the part of the petulant admirer of Ann Dickson, and proves that he is a master of the straight comedy-drama despite his "slap-stick" past.

"Bull" Montana does some work that is subtle and expressive and admirably supports the star and the leading man, Jack Mower. Taking the part of a reformed gun-man, he manifests thorough disgust for his master, a young millionaire, when he learns that, under the "work or fight" clause the man who can write cheques in seven figures goes to work as a policeman, his "natural enemy."

The second episode of Pearl White's new thrilling serial, "The Lightning Raider," will be shown on the new Romano programme.

W.S. HART AS MASTER OF SEALING VESSEL

Famous Western Impersonator at Columbia in New Guise

The attraction for the Columbia screen to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week will be the Aircraft play, "Shark Monroe," introducing William S. Hart in one of his very best characters for the screen. Mr. Hart portrays the role of "Shark" Monroe, the savage master of the sealing schooner "The Gulf," which sailed along the Northwest coast.

It is a new character, as far as Mr. Hart is concerned, but he develops its various phases with splendid artistry, and the play achieves an instantaneous triumph. "Shark" Monroe is a remarkable character and the story by C. Gardner Sullivan is a remarkably vivid and human document of the Western seas. It is an epic of the ocean and the northern snows and Mr. Hart realizes completely the popularity of this attractive theme.

Monroe happens to wander into a waterfront saloon in Seattle just before his ship is about to sail for Skagway, and he meets Marjorie Hilton, a beautiful girl from the East, and her drunken brother, Webster. They are on their way to Alaska, where Webster hopes to engage in mining, but meeting with congenial friends, he has squandered all his money and they are left practically penniless. He enters the saloon to drown his sorrow in drink, and Marjorie follows him there, pleading with him to leave the place. When Monroe enters and catches sight of Marjorie a deep-seated interest in her is suddenly awakened in his heart. This is increased later when she pleads with him to take herself and brother to Skagway, where she hoped to be able to repay him for his trouble.

Monroe consents to the arrangement and permits Webster to work his passage, while Marjorie devotes her time and attention to the caddy. On their arrival at Skagway, Marjorie and Webster proceed to Balsam City, where they come into contact with "Big" Baxter, keeper of a disreputable hotel, and who immediately conceives a plan to make Marjorie his prey.

Monroe secretly follows the pair and determines to frustrate "Big" Baxter's designs. Events follow swiftly and finally the girl from the East learns to love the man of the sea, after he has proved himself every inch a man among men.

The story is unfolded most skillfully and Mr. Hart, who also directed the picture, has given some wonderful sea scenes, as well as some extraordinary scenes in the great white North.

MUST REMAIN AT HOME.

President Wilson is fortunate compared with the French President in being allowed to bring his wife to Europe with him.

A French President who took his wife out of the country would find himself in serious trouble. She receives foreign royalties when they visit Paris, but the realm is strictly limited to that city. If the French President goes anywhere on an official visit his wife may not accompany him, nor may she return visits paid by Royalty to Paris. She does not even accompany him on his State functions at home.

CO-STARS APPEAR

IN ANOTHER ROLE

Skinner's Series Introduces Bryant Washburn Again at Variety

Bryant Washburn and Hazel Daly are co-starred in the new feature offering "Skinner's Bubble," which commences a week's run at the Variety to-day. Both these stars have already endeared themselves to the movie fans of Victoria by their clever work in the two former productions of Henry Irving Dodge's "Skinner" stories, "Skinner's Dress Suit" and "Skinner's Baby." The outstanding feature about these pictures which makes them so enjoyable and entertaining to everyone is the fact that they deal with real human beings. In fact, Skinner and his wife, "Fanny" might be any young married couple living right here in Victoria. They are as nearly as possible copied exactly from the original stories and nothing about the production is over-drawn.

Mr. Beaumont, the producer, has made the action of "Skinner's Bubble" carry beautifully by keeping it perfectly human, giving plenty of good close-ups and registering scores of little touches that will appeal particularly to those who like the "plain folk" type of picture. The underlying thought in this feature is that life in a cottage on a moderate income is generally much better than the "big league" stuff in the city, where there are many servants to take the joy out of life by insisting on ministering when they are not wanted.

There are also some effective incidents dealing with the value of a good bluff in business. There is no question about the value of bluff in this instance, and a good many successful business men know it only too well. Those who do not know it from personal experience love to think that the other fellow succeeds or has appeared to succeed because of his being a good bluffer. The bluff put up by Skinner in his own office is going to get a lot of real laughs, and there are scores of delightful little human touches all through the film.

The Great Houdini will appear in the fourth episode of the wonderful serial story, "The Master Mystery." The exact times at which the various features of the programme commence are given in the Variety advertisement appearing in another part of this issue.

The act is a futuristic girl-and-music turn with a prophetic series of scenes, with songs and dances to match, as its basis. The prima donnas are clever dancers and singers and what they do not offer along these lines is supplied by the cast of choristers of Ziegfeldian charm. ### "THE SILVER KING"

William Faversham, who appeared here in person a few weeks ago with such marked success, is even greater on the screen. Don't fail to see this great emotional star in the role of the Silver King.

The Silver King is one of the most intensely dramatic motion pictures ever screened. Its thrilling depths could not be better sounded by any living actor than William Faversham. He is a master.

CITY CHORAL SOCIETY WILL REPEAT CONCERT

The Ladies' Musical Society has received the assistance of the Victoria Choral Society. Its members will repeat the recent concert, including "The Death of Minnehaha" and other works, on Wednesday next, under the direction of the popular conductor, Mr. Gideon Hicks. Miss Eva Hart will be the soprano soloist. There will be an orchestra of twenty-five pieces and the full chorus of ninety voices. The secretary of the Choral Society wishes every member of the society to attend the final rehearsal on Tuesday in the ballroom at 8 o'clock.

THE REASON.

vaudeville as a team before joining this big cast.

McLallen and Carson have a sure-fire novelty turn which they call "Oh Sarah!" The act is a unique one in the variety theatre and wins laughter from every audience to which it plays. It will undoubtedly get the plaudits of the local theatregoers.

The idea of the stage-hand ruining the act of an entertainer for comedy purposes has been introduced in the variety theatre before but seldom so successfully as when Murray and Voelt offered it in New York a short while ago. Murray appears as a "straight" singing turn and Voelt, as a comedy stage hand, butts in on the act and almost spoils it. The pair entitle their turn "Who is He?" and get laughs continually during its presentation.

The Three Weston Girls in a routine of musical selections both vocal and instrumental, will win audiences with their initial appearance. The young women have good voices and oodles of personality. They present a repertoire embracing the best of the classics and popular hits.

Winning her right to the title "Maid of the Allies" by sheer force of personality and her charm in presenting a repertoire of Italian, French, Belgian and English songs, Miss Irene Trevette is but recently come from a continental tour where she scored many triumphs. She is offering her sure hits on the Pantages programme this week.

The Canadian-British Weekly news pictures constitute an excellent feature for the motion picture part of the bill and the Pantages Orchestra, under the leadership of Tony Jensen, is each week a special attraction for patrons of the Theatre.

"WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES" IS SUCCESS

Red Cross Company Produces Roars of Laughter; Proceeds for Widows

"What Happened to Jones," that famous comedy by George Broadhurst which had such a tremendous run on the English stage, lost none of its reputation as a mirth producer at the hands of the Red Cross company, headed by R. N. Hincks, at the Princess Theatre Saturday night. The play will run until further notice, and if the crowd who attended on the opening night is any criterion the Hincks aggregation will be kept busy for some time.

Everyone who has ever witnessed this play knows that he can go again and again and be assured of a hearty laugh on each occasion. The situations are at all times full of humor and expectation as to Jones's ability to get out of his numerous predicaments. His troubles cease only at the last moment in the play, and the assurance and adroitness with which he wriggles through the most difficult situations gives the audience the greatest pleasure and satisfaction.

The part of Jones is taken by R. N. Hincks. When he strikes a live town he sells playing cards and when the town is dead he sells hymn books. While visiting a certain town he attends a prize fight. At the same time were "Professor" Ebenezer Goodly (S. G. Clark) and Richard Heatherly (A. M. D. Fairbairn), his prospective son-in-law, the latter having cajoled his prospective and henpecked father-in-law to escape his troubles by attending the fight "in the interests of science."

Unfortunately the police got wind of the fight and broke into the place, and the professor had a slide down a waterspout to escape. He and Richard raced for home, hotly pursued by what they thought to be a detective, but it was only Jones, who also had been pursued but had laid the policeman low with a "billy." The rest of the fun took place in the professor's home while the three were trying to hide their escapade from the eyes and ears of the women folk, especially Mrs. Goodly (Mrs. Belby), who played the part of the "over-bearing" wife to perfection. To carry out the deceit it was necessary for Jones to assume the part of the Bishop of Ballarat, who was expected to arrive at any moment, and some of whose clothes had luckily arrived in advance. Hiding his own clothes in the piano brought about some funny results, and when the real bishop (T. E. Clark) arrived on the scene the humor of the situation was too much for words to describe.

The Bishop's arrival was awaited with keen delight by Alvina, the maiden aunt, who carried five hundred and thirty-seven love letters from the Bishop "next to her heart." This difficult character was taken by Mrs. W. Taylor, and was carried off in a very creditable laugh producing manner. Mr. Clark played his part like a veteran, and certainly supplied a great deal of the fun.

Mrs. D'Oyly Rochfort as Mollie, Miss Dorothy Stuart-Robertson as Marjorie and Mrs. Andrew Mellin as Minerva, added piquancy to the play and carried out their parts in a clever and artistic manner, giving the youthful feminine touch to the setting.

Miss Stevens as "Helma," the Swedish servant, performed a difficult part in a splendid manner and made the most of a minor role. Jones and the professor had to bribe her to keep her quiet, and she was clever enough to threaten to "yump her Yob" if they did not come through with more money.

Lieut. Webb as Bigbee, R. Ward as Holder and W. Taylor as Fuller, completed the cast, and each added to a large degree to the success of the play, which is certainly one of the best productions ever staged here. The proceeds go to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

IN AVIATION CIRCLES

FLYERS ARRANGING FOR KITE TESTING BRANCH

The Aerial League of Canada in an interview with F. Napier Denton, Superintendent of the Meteorological Bureau, has put forward the request that a kite testing branch be attached to the local Observatory at Gonzales Hill. Mr. Denton was enthusiastic over the idea and will place the matter before the Dominion authorities.

With the advent of aviation in Victoria and on the coast it is essential that the men who are to fly, have a working knowledge of the conditions prevailing locally, in the upper air.

The plans for the cabaret to be held in the Empress ball-room on the evening of April 28, are nearing completion, and tickets will be on sale shortly. It is expected that the affair will be one of the events of the season, and a record attendance is indicated.

When the time comes for flying to be done over this city and vicinity, the Aerial League requests that all owners and drivers of horse-drawn vehicles will be especially careful in the handling of them. The roar made by the exhaust of an aeroplane engine is so penetrating that there is some danger of the horses becoming frightened. The league will give due warning of the time, and probable course of all flying to be made over the vicinity, and they ask the people of the district to be kind enough to give this matter their earnest attention.

The distinguishing flag of the local Aerial League will be a blue pennant with the letters A. L. of C. in white. This pennant is, as yet, unfamiliar to the people of British Columbia, but before long it is hoped the pennant will be recognized generally, and will stand for an enterprise successfully carried out.

GREAT BRITAIN SHOWS YANKEES HOW TO DO IT

Although the brothers Wright, two Americans, were the first men to make successful flights in heavier-than-air machines, it is in Europe that aviation has been raised to its present stage of development and that the prospects of its further exploitation seem brightest, especially in the realms of commerce and sport. Apart from the activities of the army and navy flying services only services of a kind exist in the United States for aviation development.

The aeroplane show at present open in New York is a disappointing exhibition so far as schemes for using the knowledge and experience gained during the war are concerned. Aircraft manufacturers generally are unwilling to undertake the operation of aerial services. They want to manufacture the machines and let others run them, unlike the great producers of Britain and France. The machines at the show, with the exception of those of foreign design, are in many cases strangely immature.

There are, however, several good native engines, and several manufacturing concerns have come forward with proposals for establishing aerial services for various purposes. But hardly one of these proposals can be taken seriously.

A certain manufacturer received a visitor at the show and described all sorts of wonders a machine was capable of performing. The visitor left, saying drily, "Very wonderful." The exhibitor was the unhappiest man in the building when told he had been telling tales to the head of the British Air Mission, Gen. Livingstone.

ENGLAND PRODUCES ONE MORE WONDERFUL PLANE

It is understood that experiments with an apparatus destined to be embodied in a "helicopter" aeroplane are being secretly carried out by the authorities near London.

A helicopter is a type of aeroplane capable of rising and descending vertically without "putting its nose up," and able to hover in the air.

Experts who have witnessed tests say there is good reason to hope that an aeroplane completed on the lines of the experiments would not only rise straight up but would be able also to alight on housetops or even on barges; thus dangers of landing at night or in fog would be minimized.

An English aeronautical authority states that if perfected, the helicopter will be the greatest step yet made towards complete mastery of the air with a heavier-than-air machine. "Extensive experiments with helicopters," he said, "have been made from time to time in the United States, but with little success. Since the war many notable British aeronautical engineers, at first sceptical, have turned their attention to the problem which is now well on the way to being solved. Direct lifting can be attained only by a considerable reduction in straight-ahead speed, and this will always be a factor against direct-lift machines."

Another remarkable invention is a new system of aeroplane control in which power will be used to relieve the pilot of the physical strain of working the ailerons, elevators and rudder. The heaviest flying boats and four-engined aeroplanes will be managed by a single pilot with the ease of driving an up-to-date motor car.

VICTORIA NORTHWEST WORLD

GOLF PARTY TO

COME TO VICTORIA

nes With Seattle Over Oak
ay and Colwood Courses
This Week

umption of international golf re-ms between Victoria and Seattle
ers will take place next Friday,
riday and Sunday, after a lapse since the spring of 1914. In other words, the war stopped all such golf of the rewards. There will be team matches between women players of the Seattle Golf Club and the Victoria Golf Club at Oak Bay Links Friday and at Colwood on Saturday. The men's team match will be played at Oak Bay Saturday.

At a meeting of the Seattle Golf Club trustees last week when it became apparent that J. C. Williams had taken up a permanent residence at Pasadena, Cal., and that Chairman C.
P. Burnett, of the greens committee, was unable to combine the duties of the chairmanship and the exacting captaincy of the club, Carl Hulskamp was unanimously approved for the position of club captain. He accepted the place, and thus brought the interesting spectacle of his being team leader of the men and Mrs. Hulskamp leader of the women's team.

"You can imagine that the children,
the home and the food have been entering very lightly into the general dinner table conversation of this family for several days," said the women's captain.

A Women's Team.
So, it is Mrs. Hulskamp who will lead a women's team from Seattle
Thursday night for play the following day at the Oak Bay course, following with a match at Colwood on Saturday against a team of which Mrs. A. T.
Goward is the captain.
The team that Capt. Carl Hulskamp will lead will consist of not more than twenty-five nor less than an even score. In all probability there will be the full twenty-five allowed by the conditions of the seventy-two-hole home-and-home match between the two clubs, which was inaugurated so many years ago that even Bob Johnstone doesn't remember the year. The second half of the match will be played at the Seattle course some time in the autumn. The trophy for which they will battle is the Biggerstaffe Wilson Cup.

In addition to the team match another idea that is being worked out by Capt. Hulskamp, and this is going big, is to bring to Victoria a team of ex-presidents of the Seattle Golf Club to play a team of like character at Oak Bay. Up to yesterday six ex-presidents had accepted the invitation.
Besides these, there are several other club members coming to Victoria, so that probably forty persons will be closer to the actual count of noses than the bare "twenty-man team"
that is usually associated with such a pilgrimage.

The Hulskamp Selection.
The selection of Carl Hulskamp as captain, incidentally, brings to mind that no better selection could possibly have been made for a team leader.
There is no more popular member of the Seattle club, and there are very few better golfers in the club. On his handicap of eight strokes, he would be a member of any eight or ten-man
team the club would put on the field.
Furthermore, he has been an athlete of long standing, his athletic skill having been largely shown on the baseball field before he took up golf.
He was a member of the Yale Varsity baseball team for three years, playing an infield position.

BETHEHEM TEAM GETS U. S. SOCCER TITLE

Fall River, Mass., April 20.—The Bethlehem Pennsylvania Field Club won the soccer championship of the United States yesterday by defeating the Paterson, N. J., Field Club 2 to 0.

THE "BABE" GOING STRONG.

"Babe" Ruth, of the Boston Americans, in six successive times at the bat, four in Friday's exhibition with the Baltimore Internationals, and two in today's game, scored six home runs,
breaking the home run record.

LEONARD HAS HAD NO TEST, SAYS RITCHIE

Many a Loser in Tenth, Winner
in Twentieth, Says
Ex-Champion

New York, April 21.—Willie Ritchie,
the Western lightweight, who is training for his coming bout with Benny Leonard, does not think the champion is any seventh wonder, despite the many wins of the New York Hebrew.
Ritchie is not detracting from Leonard's ability, but he says the champion
as not had a real test.

"Twenty rounds is the real test for a fighter. I'd like to see Benny Leonard go that distance with a good man before deciding that he's really a great fighter," Willie Ritchie said this the other day. "Many a fighter can win in ten rounds who might lose in a twenty-round go," he went on. "I found this out myself when I fought Wolgaast. For ten rounds he punished me frightfully. He had my face punched out of shape and he landed early and often on my body."

Didn't Hurt Him.
"While I was a sorry sight, still he hadn't hurt me. I made up my mind that if his punches weren't hurting me I'd take them all for the first half of the fight and depend on putting forth
my efforts in an aggressive way during the last ten rounds. I figured if I could only be lucky enough to floor
Ad some time after the tenth round it would make a great impression on the referee. My plans worked out all right. I started the eleventh round with a rush and started to do some punching myself. I found that Wol-gaast had weakened himself considerably by his early efforts, and when I floored him in the seventeenth I had the fight practically won then and there. In ten rounds I was beaten to a frazzle."

Not Yet Seasoned.
Yes, I'd like to see Benny go the full distance against seasoned fighters.
He hasn't really met a seasoned fighter
yet, you know."

"How about Ritchie Mitchell?" was asked.

"He was far from being a seasoned man when Benny met him," replied
Ritchie. "He was just a good comer.
He wasn't anything near as tough as,
say, Leach Cross, McFarland, Wolgaast or others of that type. I'll admit that Leonard beat a good man in Johnny Kiybanc, and that's about the only one.
Welch, of course, was at the end of his rope when Leonard beat him."

"I don't want to take anything from Leonard," continued Ritchie. "He doubtless is a good fighter, but he hasn't been thoroughly tested yet.
He's all right now, particularly when he's winning; but against a man who isn't afraid to take his punches and can deliver some punishment himself, and go the twenty-round route, Benny might not look so formidable."

FIRST LACROSSE GAME TO BE PLAYED HERE VICTORIA DAY

Vancouver, April 20.—The first game of the season on this Coast for the Mann Cup for amateur lacrosse will be played by Vancouver and Victoria in the latter city on May 24. This was decided here yesterday at the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Amateur Lacrosse Association, at which representatives were present from New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver.
Prospects for a good season were reported and a committee was appointed to consider a proposition that the association be made Province wide.
The following officers were elected:
Honorary president, Sir Frank Barnard.

VICTORIA GETS TWO BASKETBALL TITLES

Three basketball teams from Victoria carried off two out of three provincial championship titles played at the Vancouver Y. M.
C. A. Friday and Saturday.
For the 125-pound title there was no competition offered by the Westminster boys, so the Y. M. C. A. team and the First Presbyterian team played for the honor. The Presbyterians carried off the game
by a score of fifty-two to nineteen.
The Y. M. C. A. 135-pound team had little difficulty in defeating the Mainland team but in the 110-pound class the Westminster players beat the First Presbyterians, of Victoria.

SPORT SHRAPNEL

New Tennis Championship.

An extremely interesting development of the war is found in the decision of the British Lawn Tennis Association to establish a new championship for teams representing the army, navy and Royal Air Service.
According to H. Anthony Sabell, secretary of the association, this will be played after the historic Wimbledon tournament. Challenge cups and medals will be presented to the winning service and the event will be an annual affair.
League Cricket.
It is expected that match games in the Victoria and District Cricket League will start on the first Saturday in May. The Foundation cricketers have already had a practice game.

Now, One Man Does The Work of Many

IN the bakery of a few years ago, men used to work around a big table, cut off the required amount of dough and weigh and mould the loaves by hand. Today, one man does the work of this former many. Yes, and so "almost human" is the machinery in use that it is necessary for him to use his hand but once during the entire process of baking.

As the harvester has taken the place of the scythe, the loom supplanted the spinning wheel, and the sewing machine eliminated the making of thousands of hand stitches, so the modern bakery, through quantity production, has made it cheaper to buy bread than bake it. Try using baker's bread this Spring and Summer.

HUDSON IS NAME OF NEXT VESSEL

Ship to Be Launched From Foundation Yard Saturday
Named After Navigator

In honor of the great navigator of that name the next wooden steamship to be launched from the Foundation yards here for the French Government will be christened Hudson, according to an announcement this morning by E. E. Jenkins, assistant Pacific Coast manager of the Foundation Company.

Previous vessels launched under this contract have been named after historic cities of Alsace and Lorraine, but in the selection of a cognomen for the most recently completed vessel a distinct departure has been made. The Hudson will be sent aloft from the Point Ellice Yard at noon on Saturday next. The name of the sponsor is not yet available, but will be announced within the next few days.

The propellers have not yet been shipped, but in all other respects the Hudson is ready to slip down the ways. The struts to carry the shafting are in place and with the completion of the hull the propellers will be hoisted into position.

The launching ways are being prepared and by the appointed time everything will be ready for the big splash. The work on the hull aboard will be more advanced than on any other vessel sent aloft from the Foundation yards.

Progress is steady.

Rapid progress is noticeable on Hulls 211 and 213 at Point Hope and on Hull 220 at Point Ellice.

The framing of 211 has been completed some days and with the keelson in place the ceiling girders will soon be actively engaged on this ship.

The square framing of 213, which occupies the ways recently vacated by the Mulhouse, now seventy-five per cent. complete. The framing of this hull was commenced last Monday, and the present stage of construction has been reached in four working days.

About the same stage of progress has been reached on Hull 220 as on 211, despite the fact that the keel of the former was laid about three days subsequent to the latter.

Steady progress is being maintained on all ways. The keel sticks for the next vessel are ready and on the Monday following the launching of the Hudson the keel of Hull 223 will be laid.

CANADA MARU IS DUE FOR RELEASE

O. S. K. Liner Expected Alongside Dock This Afternoon;
Another Fatality Occurs

Following final examination of passengers this afternoon and, providing that no more cases have developed aboard, the Canada Maru will be released from quarantine. It is expected that the liner will be released at 4 o'clock, and that case she will arrive at the Outer Docks about 5 o'clock this afternoon to disembark her local passengers and discharge cargo.

One of the three members of the crew who contracted influenza succumbed at noon yesterday, and the body is being held aboard for burial here. The body of the Japanese steerage passenger who died at sea will also be put ashore here for interment. The Canada Maru reached William Head Friday morning from the Far East and, with the expiration of the three-day period of detention, and in the event of no additional cases developing, she will be released this afternoon. No more cases have developed up to last night. A Japanese sailor and a Chinese cook are being detained ashore at the quarantine station for treatment.

The Canada Maru has 132 passengers aboard, including eighty-five for Victoria. Her local cargo amounts to 600 tons.

CASCO WILL NOW PLY UNDER MEXICAN FLAG

It is now reported that the famous schooner Casco has been disposed of by the Union Codfish Company, of San Francisco, to Mexican interests, and will be delivered at Mazatlan instead of returning to Puget Sound. News of the transfer is announced by Capt. Charles H. Wicke, who has just returned to Seattle.

Capt. Wicke, who was interested financially in the little vessel, says that the Casco is being outfitted at San Francisco and would leave for the Mexican port within the next few days.

NEW YORK MUSIC TEACHER

Says "Vinol Cures Chronic Coughs"
New York City, 121 Nicholas Avenue
"I teach piano and singing and when suffering from chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis, I use Vinol as I find it cures when other remedies fail."
Henry Albers.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such conditions, is because it is a constitutional remedy containing beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease.

We know of many such cases. Dr. E. Campbell and at the best drug store in every town and city in the country.

Occasionally a man knows a good thing when he sees it, but most men are too dignified to recognize it.

BELGIAN HOSPITALITY LAUDED BY CANADIANS

Lieut.-Col. Ryan, of 102nd Battalion, Writes Interesting Letter From Belgium

Lieut.-Col. E. J. Ryan, commanding the 102nd (Northern B. C.) Battalion, in a letter to friends in this city, describes the life of the unit since the armistice. He says:
"When the wire came in announcing the armistice we were in billets on the outskirts of Valenciennes. The latter was a very dead town; hardly a civilian left in those days, and nothing doing in the place at all. We left that area a little later and marched into Belgium, where for three weeks we were quartered close to Mons. Just before Christmas we moved again, and spent Christmas and New Year, in the most desolate regions imaginable, an agricultural area full of vegetables, both human and otherwise. It was rather a rotten festival; the accommodation was so poor that it was only possible to have Christmas dinners by 'half companies, and then pass the plates on. We were more than a little sore at being marooned like that after spending two previous Christmases in the trenches. However, we survived, and we have since been enjoying our reward, for there is no doubt about it, we have at present the finest billets and the best location of any unit in the corps, probably in the army."

The name of this place of Boisfort, and it is situated about five miles from Brussels by road. There is good electric car service, and the Forest of Soignes is allowed within reason. Boisfort itself is almost a suburb of Brussels, a sort of cut between a suburb and a country resort and a country club. It is the home of Belgian horse-racing, and during peace times it is largely inhabited by English jockeys. Wealthy Brussels people have their country homes here, and you would be surprised to see what beautiful houses abound all over the country side. Stretching in every direction right up to Brussels itself is the Forest of Soignes, traversed in every direction by magnificent roads laid out for motorists, cycles, horsemen and pedestrians. These people certainly understand the art of making their country attractive. Every now and then one comes across a series of artificial lakes, with an attractive hotel in the middle, big to fit in with the general effect.

"Yesterday we had another big function in which M. M. took part. This took the form of a review of the division by brigades of the army. It was a cold day and we were all very glad that King Albert did not more than ride round the lines and then take the salute for the marauders in state through the streets. As we lie nearest to Brussels, we were the goat. As a ceremony it was excellent, as an act of religious homage it was, of course, like all these things, a farce. My experience is that church parades of all kinds and particularly those which assume the form of functions, are provocative of more bad temper and worse language than anything else in K. R. & O."

"With the war over it was necessary for the battalion to get its colors, as none had been presented to us before coming overseas. Two of our men designed a remarkably good set, with the Indian head showing up well and with the battle honors emblazoned on the feathers. But such a design would have taken too long to make and we needed them in a hurry, so we had to compromise. Finally we decided on something a little plainer and easier to make and placed the order in Brussels and yesterday was the first official occasion on which we displayed them. In a white circle shows the battalion badge, a red oblong on a green square, with 102 in large gold letters over same. Underneath is the word 'Canadians.' This is all on a green field whereon are emblazoned our battle honors—Ypres, Vimy, Lens, Passchendaele, Amiens, Arras, Cambrai and Valenciennes. A background of crimson with a gold border completes the design, and I can assure you that the whole is very effective."

Belgian Hospitality.
"Now a word about to people here and I have finished. It is very hard to say exactly what one thinks of these Belgians, because people would think that our words were exaggerating their good qualities. Really it would be hard to find a more hospitable and kindly folk on the face of the globe. When one realizes what a nuisance we must be to them; filling up their houses with our bills, riding free on their street cars and generally acting like the average Anglo-Saxon as though we owned the country and the Belgians were the strangers; it strikes one more forcibly that they are a most delightful people. I do think, though, that the 102nd has made a good impression in Boisfort. They have given us the use of their race-track and club-houses for training purposes, and I understand that they are going to present us with a magnificent loving cup in memory of the happy associations they have with our name. It's rather nice to feel that we have all behaved well enough to win encomiums such as these."

CHIEF OF STAFF OF SALVATION ARMY TO VISIT CITY TO-MORROW

Commissioner Howard, the second in command of the world-wide Salvation Army operations, will visit Victoria, arriving here to-morrow afternoon, accompanied by a staff of officers from International Headquarters, London, England, Commissioner Bowden, the Territorial Commander for Western Canada, and other Army leaders.

The Commissioner is calling at Victoria on his way to Australia, and is making a tour of inspection around the world prior to relinquishing his high office in the administration of Salvation Army affairs, which he is doing on account of his advanced age, although he is still a man of remarkable vigor and ability.

For many years Commissioner Howard has been responsible for the executive side of the Salvation Army operations throughout the world and has performed his duties with great credit to himself and with great advantage to the work during the very difficult times of war stress. He is retiring at his own wish, having reached the age of retirement for his rank after forty years of active service.

FORTUNES IN WHALE OIL

The most expert whalers to-day are the Norwegians. Many years ago British whalers were supreme, but owing to the meanness and short-sightedness of the Government, who withdrew the bounties which had been paid for the encouragement of the industry, the number of British whalers fell off, and we lost millions of pounds in consequence.

The most successful whaling ground just now is the South Atlantic, in the neighborhood of South Georgia, the South Shetlands, and the South Orkneys. The use of steam whalers has produced an enormous increase, for whereas in 1906 only 153 whales were caught, in the Antarctic Islands, last year 7,516 were caught, the total value of the products being £1,512,000.

No fewer than 268,000 barrels of oil, valued at £1,010,000, were got from the whales; the bone fetched £1,750 and the guano £2,600. In addition there were 2,914 sea-elephants and seventy-seven sea-leopards killed, valued at £25,000.—Tit-Bits.

HOW ASSOCIATION

WILL SPEND GRANTS

Budget Appropriation of Pacific Northwest Tourist Association

How the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association will expend the 1919 portion of the $125,000 publicity fund appropriated by Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for a two-year campaign, is explained in a statement of the publicity programme submitted by Herbert Cuthbert, Executive Secretary of the association, and adopted by the directors of the association in the meeting at Bellingham, April 12.

Newspaper advertising will absorb approximately half of the $62,500 available for this year, that being deemed the most effective form of tourist publicity, other forms being used to supplement the display advertising campaign.

The manner of distribution for the years is as follows:

Newspaper and magazine advertising ..... $33,295
Literature and general printing ..... 4,200
Illustrated lectures ..... 6,000
Billboards ..... 1,000
Distribution of Literature ..... 2,000
Illustrated articles, etc. .... 500
Administration ..... 10,000
Contingencies and not appropriated ..... 4,705

Nearly all of the $33,295 appropriated for newspaper and magazine advertising will be spent in newspapers throughout the United States, placed in such a way as to supplement the heavy advertising campaign to be started soon by the United States railway administration to stimulate tourist travel.

The popularity in Eastern and Middle Western cities of the lectures on Pacific Northwest scenic attractions, illustrated with colored views, delivered by Frank Branch Riley, of Portland, during the past two years, influenced the association directors to continue this work.

Billboard advertising, for which $1,000 was appropriated, will be confined to a series of hand-painted boards along the national parks highway.

way over which automobilists pass from the east on their way to visit the Yellowstone and Glacier national parks.
